Introduction

By Mawlana Riyasat Ali Bijnori, teacher of hadith of Darul-Uloom, Deoband.

Islam requires all Muslims - men or women - to acquire knowledge. The words of the Hadith are (Acquisition of knowledge is obligatory) and they emphasise its significance. Just as Islam exhorts men to acquire knowledge and spread it and assures them of a reward from Allah, so too it exhorts women to adorn themselves with it and earn reward. The only difference is that in keeping with their nature, it has bound women to the veil.

The response to the exhortation is apparent in the great number of women who have devoted themselves to spread religious knowledge in each of its fields. They have taught exegesis, hadith, jurisprudence, and other sciences, and have excelled in writing on these subjects. There have been women in the field of calligraphy too.

The mother of the faithful, Sayyidah Ayshah earned the title faqiha ul ummat (jurist of the ummah) and stood above others of her times in various fields of knowledge. The prominent Sahabah used to enquire from her about religious and scholarly questions. She is one of the eleven companions of the Prophet noted for narrating a large number of Ahadith, her narrations are 2210.

Other prominent women of the status of companions who excelled in learning are Sayyidah umm Salamah, Sayyidah Hafsa, Sayyidah umm Habibah, Sayyidah Maymunah, Sayyidha Juwayriyah ——— all Mothers of Faithful-and Sayyidha Asma bint Abu Bakr,
Achievements of Muslim Women in the Religious And Scholarly Fields

Umm Atiyah Ansariyah, etc. Many noted tabi’in (epigones) learnt Hadith from them.

This sequence continued after the companions. Women in following generations propagated hadith, wrote books, delivered lectures and guided people.

Nevertheless, the Shari’ah compliant veil was duly observed by them. Neither did they have a separate school nor did they mix with men. Generally, they learnt from their parents or close relatives and taught other relatives. In the Prophet’s times, he had set aside one day every week to teach them, at their own request. Sometimes, he would go to their gatherings personally to give lectures and sermons and, often the women sought answers to their questions from the Mothers of the Faithful.

In the present times, interest in women’s education has grown tremendously and while schools of religious learning have been built in large numbers. However, the so-called “progress-oriented” section of society blame Islam for depriving women of learning because of the veil and disallowance of mixing of the sexes. Hence, there was need for a book of this kind to repudiate this false accusation in the light of historical evidences. It is very heartening that Mawlana Qadi Athar Mubarakpuri has taken the lead and with painstaking research produced this book. It was first published in 1400 AH (1980 CE) and earned much acclaim. Within a few days, it was out of stock. Fifteen years later, despite his old age, the Mawlana was persuaded to revise it and he produced an enlarged, more beneficial material.

May Allah approve this effort and cause it to gain acclaim among the scholars and to benefit all people. Aameen!

Achievements of Muslim Women in the Religious And Scholarly Fields

Foreword
(Second Urdu Edition)

For many years, the first edition of this book was out of print and on persistent requests I present the second revised and enlarged edition. I have changed the name of the book to khawatin Islam ki deeni wa ilmi khidmat (from Banat Islam ki deeni wa ilmi khidmat).

Achievements of Muslim Women

Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم said (Acquiring knowledge is obligatory on every Muslim). However, allowances are made for the female gender. Allah's Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم imparted teaching to the women companions making these allowances and also laid emphasis on it.

Women's education in the Prophet's times:

There was a proper arrangement for women's education in the Prophet's times. They did not come to the Prophet's classes as men did, but other methods were adopted to teach them. The Sahabah صلى الله عليه وسلم taught their women and children the Qur'an at their homes. When the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم once said that knowledge of religion will disappear, Ziyad ibn Labid Ansari صلى الله عليه وسلم submitted:

كيف يختصر مناورات القرآن نساءنا والقرآن نساءنا
و أبناء نا

[How can knowledge disappear from us when we recite the Qur'an. And by Allah we will recite it and teach it to our women and our children.] (Musnad Ahmad 4/160, ibn Majah # 4048, Tirmidhri # 3653 (from Abu Darda))

The Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم used to go to the exclusive gatherings of women companions and educate, encourage and admonish them. In his Sahih, Imam Bukhari صلى الله عليه وسلم has created a chapter in the Book of knowledge, entitled "Should a day be fixed for women in order to teach them religion (apart from men)?" -- chapter 35 , Book of knowledge." He has narrated this hadith of Abu Sa'eed Khudri:

قالت نساء النبي صلى الله عليه وسلم غلبنا على رجلنا فاجعل لنا يوما من نفسها فوعدهن يوما لتقيهن فيه لوعظهن و أمرهن قال لله ماتمكنا امرأتة تقدم لثلة من ولدها الأكلان لها حجابًا من النار.
(Al-Listi'ab v 1 p 20 - marginal notes of Sindhī)

Sayyidah Ayshah رضي الله عنها and other Sahabiyat رضي الله عنها turned to the Prophet ﷺ with their questions whenever they were in doubt. In fact, they would send their questions through Sayyidah Ayshah رضي الله عنها and Sayyidah Umm Salamah رضي الله عنها while the aged and female relatives met him directly.

Just like the Sahabah, there were Sahabiyat scholars of hadith, jurists, learned women, scribes, etc. Sayyidah Ayshah رضي الله عنها was called a faqih. Sayyidah Zaynab bint Abu Salamah رضي الله عنها was daughter of Sayyidah Umm Salamah رضي الله عنها and the Prophet's step daughter. She was the greatest faqih of her times and Abu Rafi, a Tabi'il confirmed that. (Al Liṣṭ’ahāb v2 p 256)

Umm Darda Al-Kubra رضي الله عنها was very intelligent and learned. She was an ascetic and a great faqihah companion. (Tahdhib at Tahdhib v12 p 422)

Sayyidah Sa'dah bint Qumamah رضي الله عنها led women in salah. It is said about Sayyidah Samarh bint Nuhayk Asadiyah رضي الله عنها that she lived long. She enjoined piety and forbade evil, going to market-places for that and used her whip on people. (Al-Liṣṭ’ab v2 p 760)

Many sahabiyat knew to read and write. Of the Mothers of the Faithful, Sayyidah Ayshah رضي الله عنها and Umm Salamah رضي الله عنها could read while Sayyidah Hafshah رضي الله عنها could both read and write. Sayyidah Shafah bint Abdullah Adawiyah رضي الله عنها could write, and the Prophet ﷺ instructed her to teach Sayyidah Hafshah رضي الله عنها to write just as she had taught her the rugyah (which is recitation of verses of the Qur'an over a patient). Sayyidah's Umm Kulthum bint Uqbah رضي الله عنها, and Karimah bint Miqdad رضي الله عنها also knew how to write. (Futuh al-Buldan p 458)

While the learned sahabiyat did not establish regular classes of studies, they did narrate Ahadith and ruled on issues of fiqh and gave edicts. There were also poets among them and their poetry is found in books even today. Sayyidah Khansa was foremost among poetsesses and she wrote an elegy on the death of her brother, Sakhr. It is so painful that she came to be known as Arthul-Arab. Some ahadith disclose that the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم heard poem from her. Among many other poetsesses were Hind bint Utbah, Zaynab bint Awam ibn Khuwaylid, Sa'di bint Amr, Sa'di bint Kurayz ibn Rab'ah, Saffiyah bint Abdul Muttalib ibn Hashim, Atikah bint Zayd ibn amr Adawiyyah, Many women of the following generations emulated these notable sahabiyat in the various fields of knowledge including hadith, exegesis, literature, etc. they left behind indelible impressions of their names and achievements as we shall see.

Knowledge of hadith

It has always been the Divine Sunnah in matters concerning Islam and Muslims that men and women have served them with distinction in the particular sciences and arts called for in every era.

In the first two centuries of hijri, all over the Islamic world, the task of collection of Ahadith and Aathar was undertaken. It was a religious duty and particular attention was paid to it by everyone and Ahadith and Aathar were searched and recorded dutifully. The female companions and tabi'in heard them from older women and conveyed them to their men folk. The women who possessed collections of Ahadith were traced out and their treasure was received from them. For instance, Umar ibn Abdul Aziz deputed Abu Bakr ibn Muhammad ibn Hazm to get the collection held by Amrah bint Abdur Rahman Ansariyyah of Madinah. (Tabaqat Ibn Sad, v 8 p 387) Those who had the Ahadith with them narrated them to their family members. As for Amrah bint Abdur Rahman, she narrated Ahadith from Sayyidah Aysah, her own sister Umm Hisham, Umm Habibah and Hamnah bint Jash. Then her son and brother and grandson passed on Ahadith from her to others respectively* they were: Abu ar-Rijal, Muhammad ibn Abdur Rahman and Harithah ibn Abu ar-Rijal. Then, her two nephews Yahya and Abu Bakr and his son Abdullah also narrated from her.

Hasan Busri’s mother, Khayra, narrated from her own, Sayyidah Umm Salamah. Her two sons, Hasan Busri and Saveed Busri narrated from her. Saffiyah bint Ulaybah Anbiyarah narrated from her grandfather, Harmalal ibn Abdullah Anbari and grandmother, Qaylah bint Makramah. Then, her grandson Abdullah ibn Hisn Anbari reported from her.

Ra’itah bint Muslim narrated from her father Muslim and from her son, Abdullah ibn Harith Anbari. Fatimah bint Husayn ibn Ali Hashmiyah narrated from her father, Sayyidina Husayn ibn Umar ibn Abdur Rahman, her brother Ali ibn Husayn (Zayn ul-Abidin), aunt Zaynab bint Sayyidina Ali and grandmother, Sayyidat Fatimah. From her, her children Abdullah, Ibrahim and Umm Ja’far narrated.

Umm Yahya Humayd bint Ubayd ibn Rifa’ah Ansariyarab narrated from her maternal aunt Kabshah bint Ka’b ibn Maalik. Her husband and son then narrated from her, being Ishaq ibn Abdullah and Yahya ibn Ishaq respectively. Hakimah bint Umaymah narrated from her mother, Umaymah bint Rafiqah, and her family members from her. Asma bint Yazid Qaysiyah Busr’iyah narrated from her cousin Anas. Habibah bint Maysarah was cited by her slave Ata ibn Abu Ribah. Hakimah bint Umayyah ibn Aknas narrated from Sayyidah Umm Salamah. Her son Yahya ibn Abu Sufyan Akhnasi narrated from her. Umm ar-Ra’iib Ribab bint Sulay’t Dabiyah Busr’iyah narrated from her uncle Salam ibn Aamir Dabb. Then Hafsa bint Sirin narrated from her. Kabshah bint Abu Bakr Thaqafiyyah Busr’iyah narrated from her uncle and her nephew, Bukkar ibn Abdul Aziz ibn Abu Bakrah narrated from her. (These narrators and sub-narrators are mentioned in Tahdhib ul-Tahdhib, v 12.)

Jabrah bint Muhammad ibn Thabit ibn Siba’ narrated from her father. Then her husband, Abdur Rahman ibn Abu Bakr ibn Ubaydullah Taymi and others narrated from her. Tamna bint Umar ibn Ibrahim ibn Humayri Tibi narrated from Abu al-Muzaffar Ali ibn Ahmad Karkhi. Then both her sons, Ahmad ibn Abu Bakr Bandaniji and Tamim ibn Ahmad ibn Abu Bakr

The muhaddith, Hababah was the aunt of Maalik ibn Daygham and he narrated from her.

Umm Hababah bint Hayyan was with Sayyidah Ayshah during the Battle of Jamal and narrated from her. Her brother, Muqatil ibn Hayyan, then narrated from her. Hababah Busriyah narrated from her mother. Hasnah bint Ma'rur ibn Suwayd narrated from her father.

Hukaymah narrated from her husband Ya'la ibn Murrah and then Umar ibn Abdullah ibn Ya'la and Umman ibn Mughirah al-A'sha narrated from him. Hukaymah a tab'i narrated from Sayyidah Ayshah and her daughter, Umm Aasim from her.

Humaydah bint Abu Kathir narrated from her mother and then Abdur Rahman ibn Ishaq from her.

Muniyah bint Ubayd ibn Abu Barzah narrated from her grandmother - paternal or maternal. Abdullah narrated from his sister, Barrah bint Rafi'.

Tahiyah bint Sulayman ibn Umar Wastiyah narrated from her uncle Muhammad Umar Wast while Yahya ibn Ali Hadrami heard hadith from her. Umm al-Junub bint Ghayth narrated from her mother Suwaydah bint Jabir and then from her Abdul Humayd ibn Abdul Wahid the teacher for Muhammad ibn BisharBandar. Barrah bint Musa ibn Najih Bahlil narrated from her mother. Tahiyah bint Jawn narrated from her mother, Humaydah bint Yasar. (These are all extracted from al-kamal, v 1 and 2)

Umm Abdur Rahman Jur Janiyah was cited by her husband Shaykh Muhammad ibn Ali Jurjani. (Tarikh Jurjani Sahmi p 468)

Umm Umar narrated from her father Abul Ghad Hassan ibn Zayd and husband Sa'eed ibn Yahya ibn Qays. (Tarikh Baghdad, Khatib, V 14 p 433)

Khadijah bint Qadi Shahabuddin Ahmad Makkiyah heard hadith from her grandmother Hasnah bint Muhammad ibn Kamil. (Al Aqd at-Thamin v 8, p 206)

Zaynab bint Abdur Rahman Ijliyah Jurjaniyah used to narrate from the collection of her grandfather, Shaykh Muhammad ibn Ma'ruf Jurjani. (Tarikh Jurjani p 463)

These are a few examples of the very early period to show that the daughters of Islam used to spread out Ahadith and Aathar from their families to the people. Their homes were institutions of hadith and learning.

Travelling to acquire hadith:

The muhaddithin travelled all over the Islamic world seeking the Ahadith of the Prophet. The cities and towns of Islam were blessed with the footsteps of students and seekers of hadith. Their problems were removed for them and in the early periods, the journeys for learning were generally undertaken to learn Ahadith and Aathar. Later, the travellers also sought higher authentication. Even women scholars have travelled for these purposes. Umm Husayn Haj'ah bint Ahmad travelled from her native land Nayshapur to Baghdad to narrate from the scholars there. And, in 396 AH, Shaykh Abul Husayn Muhammad ibn Muhammad Shurati Baghdadi narrated from her in Baghdad and became her student. (Tarikh Baghdad v 14, p 444)

Umm Ali Taqiyyah bint Abul Farj Ghayth ibn Ali Suriyah travelled from Baghdad to Egypt and resided there for a long period and acquired knowledge in Iskandariyah from Imam Abu Tahir Ahmad ibn Muhammad Salafi. (Ibn Khalfikan v 1 p 103)

Zaynab bint Burhanuddin Ibrahim ibn Ahmad was born in Makkah. When she was of an understanding age, she travelled with her uncle to the non-Arab countries and returned to Makkah after twenty years. (Al-Aqd ath-thamin v 8 p 234)

Zulaykha bint Ilyas al-wa'iz was a resident of Ghaznayn. She travelled to Makkah. She narrated hadith from the scholars there and after many years of staying at the Haram, she went to Sadah Chilli in Persia. During her stay at Makkah, she earned dual blessings of worship and narration of hadith. (Al-Aqd ath-Thanein v 8 p 237)

Umm Ahmad Fatimah bint Nafisuddin Muhammad ibn
Husayn was a resident of Hamah in Syria. She travelled to Egypt and Tarablas and narrated from her uncle. (Zayl al-Ibn, Dhahabi p 89)

Umm Muhammad Zaynab bint Ahmad ibn Umar was a resident of Bayt-ul-Maqdis. Dhahabi gave her the epithet "المرأة" (Al-Muhamarah ar-Rahilah) because she travelled far and wide and became famous in learning and hadith. Later, women seekers of hadith from far off lands narrated from her. (Ibid.)

Many scholars of hadith travelled to Makkah for the pilgrimage (hajj) to avail the opportunity to meet the learned men of the two Harmayn at Makkah and Madinah. Women Scholars and students also seized this opportunity to combine learning of hadith with worship. Asma bint Muhammad ibn Saalim was one such who travelled to the Harmayn umpteen times and gained knowledge from the ulama there. (Ibid, p 180)

Karimah bint Ahmad Maruziyah, a resident of Maru in Khurasan, moved over to Makkah and gave lessons in Hadith. Khatib Baghdadi read the Sahih al-Bukhari under her supervision in five days at Makkah and then narrated from it. Also, great scholars of hadith like Imam Sam'ani ibn Mustalib and Abu Talib Zunayni narrated Sahih al-Bukhari from her. (Ibid., p 180)

Many female narrators and scholars of hadith used to travel to listen to a famous imam or Shaykh of the times. For example, Umm Muhammad Hadyah bint Ali ibn Askar Harris Maqdisiyah went to his native city to listen from him. (Zayl al-Ibn, Dhahabi p 70)

Ummatur Rahman sitt ul Fuqahah bint Shaykh Taqiuddin travelled to Shaykh Abdul Haq to hear "Sarf Jaz bin Hurfah." (Ibid, p 147) Ayshah bint Muhammad Harraniyyah travelled to the schools of Imam Zaynuddin Iraqi and Imam Balkhi to hear hadith from them. Ayshah bint Murar Isfahiyah went to the female scholar Fatimah Jawzwaniyah.

Sittul Arab bint Yahya Dimashqiyyah went to the school of Tarz and studied the Kitab-ul ghilamiyat Maryam bint Ahmad Ba'l bakiyyah travelled to Bahauddin's place and Umm Muhammad Shahdah bint Kamaluddin to Shaykh Kas'ari's place to take lessons. (Zayl al-zahr, and others)

Generally, full care was taken for the veil, etc. comfort and protection of the female students during their journeys. Their relatives also accompanied them. Imam Sahtni wrote in Tarikh Jurjan about Fatimah bint Abu Abdullah Muhammad ibn Abdur Rahman Tafqi Jurjani, "I saw her when her father used to carry her to Imam Abu Ahmad ibn Adi Jurjani and she heard hadith from him." (Tarikh Jurjan p 463)

Fatimah bint Muhammad ibn Ali Lakhmiyah was the sister of the well-known scholar of hadith of Andalus, Abu Muhammad Baji Ashbili. She learnt at the hands of her brother and both together narrated hadith from some scholars and teachers, and got their permission. (Baghiyat al-Mustamis p 531)

Umm Muhammad Fatimah bint Abdur Rahman ibn Abu Salih was born in Baghdad and was taken to Egypt in her childhood where she heard hadith from her father and other Shaykhs. (Tarikh Baghdad v 14, p 441)

Shams ud-Duha bint Muhammad ibn Abdul Jalil was a Scholar. A highly learned, a devoted worshipper. And an ascetic woman. She got training in Sufism and tasawwuf from shaykh Abu an-Najib Suhrwardy and also heard hadith from other scholars of hadith.

Separate, screened sitting arrangement for female students

Separate accommodation and seating was provided to the female students in the classes of these elders. They could follow the lessons well separated from the male students. There never was a co-education of male and female students. Umm Hami Abusiyah and her sister Fatimah Abusiyah were from a well-known learned family of western Aqsa. They were accompanied by the grandmother of Shaykh Zawraq, Ummul-Barin and other women to the circle of studies of Shaykh Abdus Rahman who whose classes had separate seating for women like that of the other teachers. Muwarrikh wrote:

"إن هؤلاء السيدات كان يراوون دروسهم في الدور الخصصية لهن فإن هناك في الوريدين أماكن كانت تساعد من حيث موقعها على..."

Ibn , gave his student his original manuscript or its copy, saying:

hardship of the journey they undertook, many of the elders and (Al-Mun'tezim after that on the night of Friday, 5th Rabi 'ul-Awwal 349 AH. Permission teachers permitted them to narrate Ahadith. For this, the elder (father) had lived up to seventy-two years. The Imam confirmed of my father. " His mother told him that her father (his grand father) had completed his seventy-second year. He died that he should be pleased that Allah had heard my supplication me and I will have a son who will be a scholar and attain the age of my father." His mother told him that her father (his grandfather) had lived up to seventy-two years. The Imam confirmed that he had completed his seventy-second year. He died four days after that on the night of Friday, 5th Rabi 'ul-Awwal 349 AH. (Al-Mun'tezim v 2, p 396)

Permission of the muhaddithin

Keeping in view the interest of the female students and the hardship of the journey they undertook, many of the elders and teachers permitted them to narrate Ahadith. For this, the elder gave his student his original manuscript or its copy, saying:

"These respected women heard the lessons from places reserved for them. There were such exclusive places in Qaruyin from where women could hear what men heard."

This tells us that there was in (Qaruyin) separate seating arrangement for male and female students in its classes. There is a very interesting account of participation of the daughters of Islam in the gatherings of the muhaddithin and their acquiring blessings there from.

Imam Abul Walid Hassan ibn Muhammad ibn Ahmad (d 349 AH) was a great faqih of Khurasan and the Imam of the muhaddithin of his times. He led others in piety and asceticism. He narrated on his death bed that his mother had disclosed to him, "When I was pregnant with you, Imam Abbas ibn Hamzah began his classes. I sought your father's permission to attend these classes for ten days, and he gave me his permission. On the tenth day, when the classes were over, Imam Abbas asked the students to stand up. So all of us stood up. He made supplication and I prayed to Allah to grant me a learned son. Then I came home and I dreamt at night that a man stood by me and said to that I should be pleased that Allah had heard my supplication me and I will have a son who will be a scholar and attain the age of my father." His mother told him that her father (his grandfather) had lived up to seventy-two years. The Imam confirmed that he had completed his seventy-second year. He died four days after that on the night of Friday, 5th Rabi 'ul-Awwal 349 AH. (Al-Mun’tezim v 2, p 396)

[These are my ahadith that I heard or narrated from a certain shaykh. You may narrate them from me, or, I give you permission to narrate them from me.]

Sometimes, this permission was given to a student of another city or country in writing. Those who were given permission are regarded as students of the elder. In this way, permission was given also to many female students so that they became the elders students, and in such cases these or similar words were used:

أجاز لي فلان ولها إجازة عن فلان

[Also many female scholars of hadith gave similar permission to men to narrate Ahadith, as we shall see.]

These are some examples of permission to female scholars of hadith from elder male scholars.

The daughter of Shaykh Sadruddin Tu'as Umm Muhammad Ayshah Dimishqiyyah was given permission by Abul Qasim ibn Qumayrah ibn Maslamah, Makki ibn Ulwan, Bahauddin Zuhayr, ibn Zilaq (or Zaylaq), Ibn Daftar (or Zaylaq), Ibn Daftar Khwan Sulayman and Nur ibn Sa'eed. (Al-Aqd at-thamin v 8, p 266)

Permission was given to Umm Kamal Ayshah bint Qadi Shahabuddin Ahmad ibn Zuhayr by Muhammad ibn Ali Qutarwani, Muhammad ibn Ya'qub ibn Rassas, Qadi Nasiruddin Muhammad ibn Muhammad Tunis-Maali, Abul Haraq Muhammad ibn Muhammad Qalansi and many other muhaddithin. (Ibid p 267)

Umm ul-Huda Ayshah bint Khatib Taquddin Tibriyah Makkiiyyah was granted permission by her grandfather, Muhibuddin tabari, father Khatib Taquddin, uncle Qadi Jamaluddin, and Radiuddin ibn Khalil and his brother Ilmuddin ibn Khalil and others. (Ibid p 268)

Umm Ibrahim Fatimah bint Khatib Izzuddin Ibrahim ibn Abdullah was the last student of the famous muhaddith Ibrahim ibn Khalil. She was also the last student of Muhammad ibn Abdul Qadir ibn Sarwari, Ibn Awwah and Khatib Murwa to narrate from them with their permission. (Zayl ul-ibr, Husayni p 259)

Ujaybah bint Muhammad Maqdaribiyah Baghdadiyyah was the last student of her Shaykh of hadith, Mas'ud and Rustami, etc. to narrate with their permission. (Al-ibr v 5, p 194)

Umm al-Khayar Juwayriyah bint Qadi Zaynuddin Tibriyah Makkiyah had received permission from the scholars of different countries to narrate from them. They included Muhammad ibn Qamah ibn Aali Dimyati, Ibn Kashtaghadi, Ibn Asarwi Ahmad ibn Ali Mashtuli and others from Egypt. Ahmad ibn ali Jazri and many others from Damascus.

Zaynab bint Diyauddin Muhammad ibn Umar Qastaniyah Makkiyah was given written permission in Baghdad by Ibrahim ibn Khayruddin, Abi d Ja'far ibn and Imam Radiuddin Hasan San'ani Lahori.

Sittul Kul bint Imam Radiuddin was given permission by a number of Egyptian scholars including notably Sayyidah bint Musa Ib Uthman and Darbas Marani. (Al-Aqdad Thamin v12)

Permission was granted to Ummul-Hasan Sittul Kul bint Ahmad Qaysiyah from Egypt by Yahya ibn Yusuf Misri, Muhammad ibn Ghali Dimyati, Ahmad ibn Ali Mashtuli, Abu Nu'aym As'ardi, Qadi Sharfuddin ibn Qumah, Ayshah bint Umar Sihajiyah and others, and from Damascus Abu Bakr Radiuddin, Zaynab bint Kamaluddin and others. The permission from Damascus was conveyed through the maternal cousin of Sittul Kul. (Al-Aqdad Thamin v12)

Ibn Khallikan has written about Umm ul-Muwayd Zaynab bint Abul Qasim abdul Qasim Abdur Rahman Nyashapuri that she was a great scholar who had acquired knowledge from a number of ulama through direct narration and permission. They included the great men like Hafiz Abdul Hasan Abdul Ghafr ibn Isma'il Farsi and Allamah Mahmud ibn Umar Zamakhshari the ecstatic. (Ibn Khallikan v 1, p 216)

Safiyyah bint Abdul Wahhab Qasariyah was the Muhaddith of her times though she had never heard from any shaykh or muhaddith, nor narrated from them. Rather the scholar Mas'ud Thaqafi and other senior scholars of Hadith had given her permission to narrate. (Al-ibr v 5, p 188)

Ascription

There have been so many great women scholars of hadith who held a distinctive position in ascription of hadith that the learned men and muhaddithin obtained their citation (meaning, ascribed the narration to them as authority). Some of them are:

Umm Muhammad bint Muhammad ibn Saalim ibn Abu Mawahib, Umm Muhammd Fatimah bint Ibrahim ibn Mahmud Balliyah (Authority in Syria) Umm Abdullah Zaynab bint Ahmad ibn Abdur Rahim Quddusiyah (authority in Syria), Karimah bint Abdul Wahhab ibn Ali ibn Khidr Qasariyah Zubayriyah (Authority in Makkah), Fatimah bint Ahmad ibn Qasim Haraziyah (authority of her times), Sittul Wuzara bint Umar ibn As'ad ibn Munjatanukhiyah.

Titles and Addresses

Like men, the women scholars too have been showered with titles testifying to their scholarly and religious standing. We give below some examples of women who were bestowed such titles in acknowledgement of their distinction.

Sanad Aali:
Sanad is the line of transmission of a hadith. It is aali (meaning, high or superior) when: the narrators in the chain are fewer in number than in another chain so that the line up to the Prophet is short and closer, or there is nearness in an imam's narration or in a book's narration. The muhaddith have travelled long distances to gain this excellence. Those muhaddith who possessed sanad aali had a large crowd of students in their classes, and many female muhaddith also acquired the sanadaali so that they too had a large crowd of students. Imam Dhahabi wrote about Fatimah bint Dijaq that she possessed a high esteem, a sanad aaliyah and was a devoted worshipper of her times. (Al-ibr v 3, p 296)

As for Umm ul-Muwayd Zaynab Sha'riyah Nishapuriyah, her death put an end to sanad aali. (Al-ibr v 5, p 56)

Umm Muhammad Zaynab bint Ahmad ibn Umar Muqadisiyah is exclusive in sanad aali of Musnad Darami, Musnad Abd ibn Humayd and Kitab ath-Thaiqiyah. Hence, students of hadith traveled to her classes to narrate these books. They travelled from afar to get the sanad from her. She too travelled from Nishapur to Egypt and Madinah where she narrated these books.
Singularity in Ahadith and Books of Hadith:

Like men, women too were exclusive in narration of some Ahadith or Books of Hadith and their contemporaries did not have these narrations. Because of this exclusivity, students were particular to narrate from them.

Musnadatush Sham Umm Abdullah Zaynab bint Kamaluddin Muqadisiyah was counted among these mudhaddithin. Umm Muhammad Asma bint Muhammad ibn Saalim also enjoyed the excellence of exclusivity. Al-Ibr contains these words about Amat ul Haq bint Hafiz Abu Ali Hasan ibn Muhammad Bakriyah; "She was alone in narrating a few portions (meaning, a small collection) of the Ahadith." (Al-Ibr p 352)

As for Safiyah bint Abdul Wahhab Qurashiyah, she was alone in narrating many Ahadith in her times. (Ibid v 3 p 189) And, Zaynab bint Khatib Yahya ibn Izzuddin narrated very many Ahadith and was exclusive in that. And, Zaynab bint Sulayman As'arwiyah was alone in narrating some Ahadith, and so was Zaynab bint Abdullah ibn Radiyddin in some portions of Ahadith. Ummayl Fadil Bibi bint Abdus Samad Harthamiyah Hardiyah had a small collection of Ahadith. It was ascribed to her. She had narrated it from Abdur Rahman ibn Abuy Shurayh. (Al-Ibr p 257)

The last of the Students:

The last of the students of the Shaykhs and Muhaddithin, or the student who survives the rest is called (Khatimatul ashab). This kind of muhaddith also gives a sunad aali and seekers of hadith narrate from him. He is sought because of this distinction. There have been women too who qualified as khatimatul ashab.

Fatimah bint Khatib Izzuddin Ibrahim Maqdisiyah was the khatimatul ashab of Shaykh Ibrahim ibn Khalil. This means that no one else narrated from Shaykh Ibrahim after her. Also, she was the last student of Ibn Abdul Qadir, Ibn Sirri, Ibn Awwah and Khatib Murda to narrated from them with their permission.

Ujaybah Baqidariyah was the last student to narrate with the permission of Masad Thaqafi, Rustami and a group of Muhaddithin. Umm Hani Afifah bint Ahmad Farqaniyah Isfahamiyah was the last to narrate from Abdul Wahid al-Asbah the student of Imam Abu Nu'aym Isfahani. She was his Khatimatul ashab. There were two who were the last to narrate from the well-known Muhaddith Abul Ghana'im Muslim ibn Ahmad Mazni Dimishqis; Fatimah bint Sulayman and Abul Futuh Aghmati Iskandari.

Learning and narrating hadith, and methods thereof:

Just as the daughters of Islam kept themselves within the limits of Shari'ah in seeking knowledge whether travelling or at home, so too they maintained a responsible method in acquiring and narrating hadith. They never overstepped their limits, particularly the restrictions of the veil.

Aasim ibn Sulayman al-Ahwal reported that they used to go to Hafsah bint Shirin. She would wrap herself with her covering sheet of cloth and veil her face. They would request her not to bother herself with the formality because Allah has said about aged women like her:

\text{And (as for) past child-bearing women who hope not for marriage, there is no blame on them that they put off their (outer) garments without displaying their ornaments.} \quad (24: 60)

She would ask them what words followed their quotation. They would answer:

\text{وَأَنَّ اللَّهَ يَسَعِفَ خَيْرَ الْخَيْرَ} \quad (24: 60)

[And that they should restrain is better for them.] (24: 60)

She would say, "This is achieved by putting the overall sheet of cloth." (Tobagat Ibn Sa'd v 7 p 325)

Maryam bint Muhammad ibn Abdullah Akhdiyah had built the Masjid al-Andulus in western Aqsa. There, lessons were imparted on various sciences and arts by the daughter of Tayyib ibn Kiran from behind a screen. Women and men attended these classes by turns. The narrator said:

"She used to give lessons on mantiq (logic) from behind a screen in the Masjid al-Andalusus. She was a master of different sciences. Women attended her class after (the salah of) asr and men after Zuhr."

Some female scholars, however, availed of the relaxation of shari'ah laws and discussed the scholarly and religious issues with male scholars. Aliyah bint Hassan Busriyah was a slave of banu Shayban. She was such a great scholar that the scholars and shaykhs of Busra visited her and she conversed with them unveiled. Ibn Sa'd said, "She was a noble, intelligent woman. She stayed in the neighborhood Uqah (or Awqah) in Busra.) Marri and other distinguished men of Busra visited her. She met them and talked with them and exchanged questions and answers." (Tabalat v 7 p 325)

The women scholars of Hadith observed the same limits while teaching and narrating to others as they did in acquiring from and narrating to their teachers and shaykhs. The imams and learners of hadith observed the same procedures in hearing, reading and getting permission from them (the women) to benefit therefrom.

Hearing:

The teacher reads out the Hadith to the student who hears it. The daughters of Islam adopted the same method in teaching hadith to their family members.

Reading:

A student reads out the hadith before the teacher and other students. It is as though the whole class reads before the teacher who listens to them. This is reading or submitting before the shaykh. Women teachers followed the same method. They sat behind a screen while one of their mahrams read out and she and the students heard him.

Permission:

The teacher then "gives" his narrated hadith to the students, saying, "You have my permission to narrate them." Many male scholars and many female scholars gave permission in this way to their female and male students respectively. Imam Abdul Qasim Sahmi Juzjani described how he narrated from Hibatul Aziz bint Ahmad Juzjani. He said:

"أخبرتني أم الفضل بنت العزيز بنت محمد بن عبدالرحمن بن عبدالمؤمن بقر إخها أبي ذرع عليها

"Umm ul- Fadl Habtul Aziz bint Ahmad ibn Abdur Rahman narrated to us hadith through her brother, Abu Dharr who read over to her." (Tarikh Jurjan p 463)

Abdur Rahman ibn Qasim was hearing hadith from Umm Muhammad Fatimah bint Abdur Rahman Baghdadiyah while his son Ahmad joined him in the hearing. (Tarikh Baghdad v 14, p 441)

Imam Ibn Jawzi described his hearing from Fatimah bint Husayn Ra'iyah, "I began hearing hadith from Fatimah with the reading of our teacher, Abul Fadl ibn Nasir." (Al-Muntazim v 1, p 8)

Imam Taqiuddin Fasi Makki, writer of al-Aqd At Thamin, heard hadith from Zaynab daughter of Kamal ud-Din (who was the judge of Makkah) at Badr. He said, "Zaynab narrated to us some Ahadith at Badr in the presence of her husband Qadi Jamaluddin ibn Zuhayrah. (Al-Aqd At Thamin)

Fatimah bint Nafisuddin Muhammad Bahansiyah Makkiyah narrated the book (of} Ibn Abu ad-Dunya. Imam Taqiuddin Fasi Makki described how it was done: Sadruddin Ahmad ibn Bahauddin Dimishqi read that over while the son of Fatimah, Shaykh Muhammad ibn Abdul Malik Murjani and Ibn Sa'kr heard the said Sadradduin in that very assembly. (Al-Aqd At thamin v 8, p

Sharif Abdul Khayr ibn Abu Abdullah Fabi and his brother Sharif Abudl Makarim heard health from Umm Abdul karim bint Nuruddin Muhammad Tibriyah while Ibn Qutayr read it over. (Ibid v 8 p 291)

Crowd of Students in classes of female Muhaddithin and Scholars:

Students came from far off places to these female scholars to hear their hadith and then regarded it as pride and honour to narrate them. Not only the students but also imams and preservers of Hadith came and gained benefit from the narrations.

Umm Muhammad Zaynab bint Ahmad ibn Umar Maqdisiyah imparted lessons till the age of ninety years. Students came to her class from different countries. She too travelled to many cities and gave lessons. Dhahabi said, "The students travelled to her place and she too gave lessons in Hadith in Egypt and Madinah." (Zayl Ibr Dahabi p 126)

Umm Abdullah Zaynab bint Kamaluddin Ahmad ibn Abdur Rahim Maqdisiyah had her seat in Syria. She spent all her life narrating hadith and teaching the books of hadith. "She had a large number of students. She was alone in narrating many ahadith and taught the major books of hadith." (Al-Ibr, v 5 p 358)

Umm Ahmad Zaynab bint Makki Hiraniyah imparted lessons in hadith till she was ninety-four years old. Till the end, there was a crowd of students in her class. (Al-Ibr, v 5 p 213)

Fakhr un-Nisa Shahdah bint Ahmad ibn Umar Baghdadiyah died at the age of about a hundred years. She had the distinction of having heard the sanad-ad and she passed that on to her students who were thus admitted to the fold of students of the imams of hadith. (Ibn Khalikkan, Watatat ul-Ayam)

Imam Ibn Jawzi said about her that she was very pious and she gave lessons in hadith for years together. She died when she was about a hundred years old. (Al-Muntazim v 1, p 228)

Karimah bint Ahmad Muraziyyah Kushmihainah possessed great knowledge of hadith. She excelled in narrating sahih Bukhari. Men of distinction sought to study in her classes and Ibn Jawzi named Khatib Baghdadi, Ibn Mutallib, Sam'ani, Abu Talib Zayni as the imams who studied at her hands. (Ibid v 8 p 270)

Khatib Baghdadi said that when she went to Makkah in 463 AH to perform hajj, she read the whole sahih Bukhari there in five days.

Umm Muhammad Zaynab bint Ahad Tunisiyah Makhiyah was better known by her kunyah Bint al-Maghrafi. Imam Fasi wrote about her. "She gave lessons in hadith and the learned heard (hadith) from her." (al-Aqd at Thamin v 8, p 226)

Fatimah bint Ahmad used to impart lessons in Makkah. Noted muhaddithin joined her classes. Taqiuddin Fasi wrote "She gave lessons in Hadith and our distinguished teachers also heard from her. I heard the book ath- Thaqafiyat from her." (al-Aqd at Thamin v 8, p 296)

Not only students but masters of hadith and those who had seats in the subject attended the classes of Musnadah ash-Sham Karimah bint Abdul Wahhab. Hafiz Zaynuddin Muhammad ibnAbu Bakr Sawli Shafi'i Abyurdi heard hadith from her when he was forty years old. Also, Imam Imaduddin Murtada Musnadi Dimishqi and the musnad of Sham Imam Bahauddin Ibn Qasim came to her and sought permission from her (to narrate).

Khatib Baghdadi has taken pride in Tariikh Baghdadi for transmitting from the female scholars of there and regretted his inability to avail of the narrations of some others of them. He wrote, "I have heard from Fatimah bint Hilal ibn Ahmad Karjiyah. She is truthful. She stays in the eastern Baghdad at the corner of Sah Shenba Bazar. Sa'tah bint Qadi Abdul Qasim Abdul Wahid ibn Muhammad Bajiyah was truthful and highly learned. She lived in the eastern region of Baghdad near Huraym, the capital. I also learnt hadith from her. Khadijah bint Muhammad ibn Ali al-Wa'azah Shahjaniyah was pious and truthful. She lived in the neighborhood Qutayqatur Rab' of Baghdad. I wrote down hadith from her."
"Umm Salamah, Khadijah bint Musa ibn Abdallah was a sermoniser and a righteous, trustworthy learned woman. She lived in the area TawTHah of Baghdad. I wrote down hadith from her too. I also heard hadith from Tahairah bint Ahmad ibn Yusuf Tanokhi at the house of Qadi Abud Qasim Tanokhi. Her narrations were in a book form with Qadi Tanokhi. Umm Umar bint Abul Ahasn Hassan ibn Zayd Thaqafiyah resided near the house of Mu'adh ibn Muslim in Baghdad. I heard her narrate hadith. She taught hadith to my contemporaries, like Muhammad ibn Sabah Jurjani and Dawahi."

Among the female muhaddithin of Baghdad was Fatimah bint Ubayd ibn Shakhyar Sayr Fiyah. She was a well known scholar of hadith. She resided in the neighborhood of Abul Faith Muhammad ibn Abdul Favaris. Many Muhaddithin narrated from her and Khatib Baghdadi also had the honour of being her pupil, but he regretted not having transmitted directly from her. He said, "I was not destined to hear from her but Abu Tahir Muhammad ibn Ahmad Ashafi conveyed her hadith narrations to me." (Tarikh Baghdad v 14, pp 433, 445, 446)

Sittul Wuzara bintUmar ibn As'ad Tanoki'ah was an authority of her times. Her circle of teaching extended from Dimishq (Damascus) to Cairo. She was well-known for her lessons in Sahih Bukhari and Musnad Imam Shafi'i. She taught these two books in both those places. (Zayl utbr, dhabab p 88)

Shams ud-Duha bint Muhammad ibn Abdul Jalil was a scholar of hadith, an ascetic, and a pious worshipper. She had a regular circle of students who learnt hadith from her. (Al-Aqdat-Thamin v 8, p 257)

Ibn Jawzi wrote about Fatimah bint Husayn, "I heard from her the books Dham ul-Ghibah of Ibrahim Harbi, and Kitab al-Majalis ibn Samun, and Musnad Imam Shafi'i through Abdul Fadl ibn Nasir. (Al-Muntozim v 10, p 8)

Dhahabi has elaborated that he heard hadith from Umm Muhammad Shahdah bint Kamaluddin. Muhaddith Ibn NuqTah stated that he heard Musnad Abu Yaya from Ayshah bint Mu'mar Isfahaniyah. She had heard it from

Imam Sirni. Imam Taqiuddin Fasi Mkki stated, "Umm Muhammad bint Abul Yaman Muhammad heard the hadith from her aunt Umm al-Hasan Fatimah bint Ahmad ibn Radi uddin and from her grandfather Shaykh Radiuddin Tabari, 'Hadith bil-Awliyah' and 'Tasa'iyat Razi.' And, I heard both from Ulama bint Ahmad, and Thaqafiyah at Madinah when she was a resident there." (Al-Aqdat ath. Thamin v 8, pp 281-296)

Imam Ahmad ibn Ali Salahi Hanafi (D 765 AH) heard Hadith from Zaynab bint Muslim and read sahih al-Bukhari from Sitt ul Wuzara. (Tabqaqat as-Sariyah v 1, p 461.) Fatimah bint Iqdisiyah had given permission for hadith to Abul Abbas Ahmad ibn Ali Qurasli Bakri Kimazi like Ibn Jazri. (Ibid p 470)

Permission to narrate:

Just as many shaykh of hadith gave permission to women to narrate from them, so too many females of identical rank gave permission to men who regarded it as an honour and excellence of which they took pride.

Imam Taqiuddin Fasi Makki wrote, "Umm Muhammad Sayyidah bint Shaykh Radiuddin gave permission to our Shaykh Hafiz Zaynuddin Abdur Rahim Iraq' to narrate and Umm Muhammad Ayshah bint Ibrahim Dimishqi gave permission to Imam Burhanuddin Ibrahim ibn Ahmad Shami." (Al-Aqdat Ath Thamin p 253)

Ibn Khalilkan said, "We got permission from Umm ul-Muwayd Zaynab in a certain month of 616 AH." (Ibn Khalikan v 1 p 216)

This procedure was very common among the muhaddithin. Even today, certificate and permission of books of hadith is given after a student has read some of it at the two ends.

Lessons in different cities:

Generally, the female scholars of hadith held their classes in their homes where students came to acquire knowledge, as Khatib Baghdadi has pointed out the residences of some of them. However, quite a number of the female scholars gave lessons in
Achievements of Muslim Women in the Religious And Scholarly Fields

Sayyidah Aysah bint Umar bint Mu'awiyah Al-Ash'ari
did her Ummul Azhar bint Umar Ghassani, mother of Ahmad ibn Harith bint Waqid Ghassani. (These reports are cited from Al-Kamal v1, 2 and 4.)

The musnadah Shaam, Sayyida bint Kamaluddin Ahmad Maqdisiyah was given permission by Ujaybah Baqadaziyah to narrate from her. Fatimah bint Sulayman Ansariyah heard hadith from Karimah bint Ahmad Maruziah. Aysah bint Mu'amar Isfahaniyah attended the classes of Fatimah Jazwaniyah and narrated from her. Shuykha Mus'marah Sayyida bint Makkhi heard from Sittul Ka'bah. The granddaughter of Sultan Salahuddin Ayyubi, Princess Fatimah bint Malik Hasan Ahmad also heard from Sittul Ka'bah. Fatimah bint Ahmad Samiriyah Baghdaidiyah narrated from Huwariyah bint Eesa Khazzaz.

Writings on hadith:
The daughters of Islam -like their male counterparts- did not let it rest at teaching and narration, but wrote books on the subject. They left behind a sizeable treasure of books. They compiled their narrations in book form, wrote biographical notes on narrations, and made copies of books of hadith. Many excelled in the field. Imam Dhahabi wrote about Ujaybah bint Hafiz Muhammad ibn Abu Ghalib Baqadaziyah that she wrote a book of ten volumes on the life of Shaykhs and teachers. (Al-Ibr v 5 p 194) This shows how many her shaykhs were.

Umm Muhammad Fatimah Khatun bint Muhammad Khatiyyah Isfahani was very adept in writing and composing. She wrote many good books, Ar Ramuz min Al-Kanuz, a five-volume book, among them. (Al-Aqfi Al Thumini v 8, p 202)

Fasi wrote about Umm Muhammad bint Fatimah bint Nafisuddin Muhammad Bahnasiyah Makkiyah that she wrote many books on the sciences of hadith and other subjects. (Ibid, p 273)

Khadijah bint Muhammad Shahjaniyah Baghdaidiyah compiled all the narrations and hadith of her teacher of hadith. Ibn Maymun, in a book form. (Al-Ibr v 3 p 246)

Umm Muhammad Shahdah bint Kam aljuddin Umar had different cities too and as it were, spread religious knowledge while they moved about. Khadiyyah bint Jafar ibn Muhammad was a resident of Baghdad. Once when she travelled to the lands of non-Arabs, at Dinawar Khatib Abul Fath Mansur ibn Raibiah Zuhri narrated hadith from her. (Tarikh Baghdad, v 14, p 444) Sittul Wuzara bint Umar Tanokhiyah imparted lessons in Sahih Bukhari and Musnad Shafi' from innumerable times in Cairo and Damascus. Sayyida bint Ahmad Maqdisiyah taught in Cairo and Madinah. Aminah bint Unan, taught in Baghdad and Mosul and narrated hadith. Taqiuddin Fasi heard hadith from Sayyida daughter of the Qadi of Makkah at Badr.

Mutual hearing and narrating:

We have stated already that when hadith came to be recorded in the first century, women also narrated to each other. Their hadith were also heard by men and this continued in succeeding generations. Women spread religious knowledge among their sex and taught fellow women the hadith.

Umm Sulayman Ubayyah bint Naf'i was a slave of Sakhinah, the daughter of Mus'ab ibn Zubayr. Taybah was the slave of Fatimah daughter of Umar ibn Mus'ab ibn Zubayr Jaybah, narrated from Umm Sulayman.

Thaniyah bint Ubayd ibn Abu Barzah narrated from her grandmother and then Umm ul-Aswad narrated from her.

Umm Nadrah narrated from Sayyida Aysah bint Umar and from her the transmission was picked up by Tahiyah Rasbiyah Busriyah. While Umm ul-Banin narrated from Sittul Ka'bah. The granddaughter of Sayyida Aysah bint Umar bint Wa'il that is, a niece became her aunt's student. Hakimah narrated from Sayyida Aysah bint Umar and then her daughter Umm Aasim narrated from her. Rafi'ah bint Wazr narrated from Ibn Shahab and Umm Az'ar, and from her, her aunt Karimah bint Aatif Batwiyah. Sidrah the freed woman of Ibn Aamir narrated from committed many ahadith to memory. She collected many of them in a book form. (Zayl al Ibr Dhahabi p 49)

Karimah bint Maruziyah had great ability to correct her books by comparison and also rectify her manuscripts thereby. She was a very capable scholar of hadith. (Ibid v 3, p 254)

There was a constant exchange of views through correspondence between Khadijah bint Shaykh Shahabuddin Makkiyah and her contemporary male scholars. She used to write booklets and pamphlets on religious and scholarly subjects.

Ghubariyah wrote about Ayshah bint Umrah ibn Yahya resident of Bajayah in Africa, "Her script was excellent. I saw a book of Tha'labi in her handwriting. It was made up of eighteen volumes. (Umwan al-darayyah fi man kana min al-ulama ... Pp 47-48)

These few examples show that the female scholars did not leave behind many books and they also excelled as scribes. Unfortunately, their works were not given due attention so that none of them is extant today.

Exegesis of their books and narrations:

The acclaim and approval of the books and narrations of female scholars prompted Ulama and muhaddithin to write a takhrij (conclusion and/or interpretation) on them. They certified that they were correct so they included them with their own narrations.

Imam Fasi wrote about Umm ul-Fadil Khadijah bint Taquiddin Ali ibn Abu Bakr Tibriyah Makkiyah that her hadith were subjected to takhrij, and she gave lessons in hadith. (Al-Aqd Ath-Thamin v 8, p23)

And he said the same thing about Umm Ahmad Raysah bint Ahmad ibn Abu Bakr Muhammad Tibriyah Makkiyah. (Ibid p 221)

Alas, neither is there a sign of the books of the female scholars nor of the books of takhrij thereon.

Fiqh (Jurisprudence) and Verdicts:

Many of these female scholars were also jurists and givers of religious verdicts. They excelled in this field and Muslims relied on them perfectly. Ibn Qayyim explained that about twenty-two sahabah were well-known in the subjects of jurisprudence and issuing verdicts, known as fiqih and fatawa, seven of them were the Mothers of the Faithful. Sayyidah Ayshah had the title of faqih ul-Ummah. And, Zaynab bint Abu Salamah was also a foremost faqihah. The well-known tabi'i always remembered her when he recalled a faqihah of Madinah.

Shaykh Allauddin Samargandi (d 539 AH) was a well-known Hanafi faqih and a scholar and writer of Tuhfat ul-Fuqaha. His daughter, Fatimah, was a great faqihah and her husband, Shaykh Allauddin Kasani (d 587 AH) wrote al-Bada'i' wa as-sara'i' an exposition of Tuhfatul Fuqaha. Whenever, he hesitated, she corrected him and she also issued edicts with her father and husband. The edicts bore the signatures of all three of them.

The daughter of Qadi Abu Abdullah Husayn ibn Isma'il Muhamli, Ahatul Wahid Sataythah had heard hadith from her father and also from Isma'il ibn Abbas Waraq Abdul Ghafir ibn Salamah Hamsa, Abu Hasan Misri, Hamzah Hashmi and others. She was very learned and righteous and had acquired proficiency in laws of inheritance, accounts, grammar and other sciences and arts. But, most of all, she had memorized the Qur'an and fiqih. She was perfect in fiqih of the Shafi'i school. She used to issue edicts with Shaykh Abu Ali ibn Abu Hurayrah.

Ibn Jawzi has written about Bint al-Mahmil that she was a talented scholar and the greatest of those who had memorized the fiqih of the Shafi'i school of thought. Thus she had no peer in her times in fiqih of the Shafi'i school.

The faqihah and muftihah Umm Uyusiyah, her sister Fatimah and the grandmother of shaykh Zawraq, faqihah Umm ul-Banin were three prominent women of west Aqsa in fiqih and fatawa.

Umm Eesa bint Ibrahim ibn Ishaq Baghdadiyah was a jurist in Baghdad. Khateeb said that she was an accomplished scholar and issued edicts on juristic questions. Ibn Jawzi confirmed this statement. (Tarikh Baghdad, v 14 p 442, al-Muntazam v 6 p 315)

The daughter of Shaykh Taquiddin Ibrahim ibn Ali Wasti,
Achievements of Muslim Women in the Religious And Scholarly Fields

Amatur Raman was distinguished in fiqh and fatawa. She was known as sitt ul-fuqha. (Zayl ul-lbr, Dhahabi) The same could be said of Sharifah the sister of Amir Sayyid Sharif Alauddin Ali ibn Khatib Sharf uddin Ahmad. (Zayl ul-lbr Husayni p 287) Umm Zaynab Fatimah bint Abbas Baghdadiyyah was a highly talented scholar, an ascetics, a content woman and the chief of women of her times. (Zayl ul lbr, ahabi)

The sister of Faqih Yusuf ibn Yahya Andalusiyah, Fatimah bint Yahya Andulu siyah Qur'tubiyah was an accomplished scholar and very God-fearing, simple woman who also was a faqihah. Both brother and sister were famous in this field. Her popularity may be gauged from the unprecedented number of people who participated in her funeral. (Baghijatul Hultamas p 531)

It is worth mentioning that Abu Bakr Muhammad ibn Ali Andalusi (d 703 AH) used to come to the mosque from morning till zawaal and give lessons in the Qur'an and subjects of Shariah and he also issued fatwah to women who came to the mosque and enquired from him. (Tahajat ul Mujaasirin v 2 p 103)

Qur'an, memorizing, exegesis and recital:

Many of the women memorised the Qur'an and specialized in its recital and exegesis. They served as they served the hadith. Hafsha bint Sirin had memorized the Qur'an and its meaning and interpretation when she was twelve years old. (Tahdhib ut-Tahdhib v 11, p 409) she was adept in the art of recital too. Her brother, Muhammad ibn Sirin, used to refer to her whenever he was in doubt. Hafsa used to recite half of the Qur'an every night. (Safat Us-Satwah v 4, p 16)

Fatimah Naysapuri was a famous exegete. Ibn Mutuk said that he had not seen a woman more learned than her. He asked Zun Nuz Misri about this woman with exceptional knowledge and he said that she was one of the friends of Allah and she was his teacher. (Ibid p 101) Amatul Wahid bint al-Malauili was an outstanding scholar, faqihah and a hafizah who had committed the Qur'an to memory.

Aasiyah, the sister of Imam Diyauddin Maqdisi, was a very pious woman, an ascetic and a hafizah. The wife of Diyauddin, Aasiyah bint Muhammad ibn Khalf Maqdisiyah was an excellent scholar of the Qur'an and of the Sciences of the Qur'an she was exceptional in the art of recital. (Hashanah al-Askjal v 1, p 92)

Ibn Mutuk said that she was one of the friends of Allah and she was his teacher. (Ibid p 101) Amatul Wahid bint al-Malauili was an outstanding scholar, faqihah and a hafizah who had committed the Qur'an to memory.

Among the children of Imam Abu Muhammad Sirajuddin Abdur Rahman ibn Umar Dani Hanbali (d Jumadilula 243 AH) was a blind daughter. She was known to possess a miraculous memory in her times.

Abu Muhammad Harran had a blind daughter who had a miraculous memory. She could tell about any hadith in the six authentic books immediately on being asked. (Tabajat al Hanabi'ah)

Maymunah bint Abu Ja'far Madinan was a well-known reciter of the Qur'an having learnt the recital from her father. She then taught it to other people.

Imam ul-Qurra, Ibn Jazri wrote about his daughter that she memorized the Qur'an in all its seven readings and then recited to others. She also learnt the ten recitals on these principles. She was perfect in the science of recital (called tajwid) and no one could match her.

Ibn Tagharbardi wrote in An Nujum Az-Zahirah that in the palace of Zubaydah, the wife of Khalifah Harum Rashid, one thousand female slaves used to recite the Qur'an. Their audible recital seemed like the buzzing of honey bees.

The daughters of Islam served the Qur'an also by transcribing it. Ibn Fayyad wrote in 'Akbar Qurtubah' that there were in eastern Qurtubah a hundred and seventy women who transcribed the Qur'an in the kufi script. We may gauge from this the interest of the women of the whole city in writing down the Qur'an in their own hand. Even in our country, India, the granddaughter of the king Shah Jehan, princess Shad Khanam transcribed the Qur'an in the script Rayhan with all seriousness and put down her name at the end in the script Riga.

Admonition and reminder:

It is through sermons and remembrance that the faith and deeds for women of Islam was refreshed and enlightened. Through them the Muslim families were reformed. There have been many women sermonizers who have been instrumental in benefiting women very much. They went to women and delivered sermons. Women attended their sermons. In this way they enjoined piety and forbade evil. The mother of Hasan Busri, Khayrah, used to deliver sermons to groups of women. This is what Usamah ibn Zayd said. (Tuba yat Ibn Sa'd v 8 p 376)

Mu'adharah bint Abdullah was wife of a famous tabi'i Silah ibn Ashyam. She was very pious and Ja'far ibn Kaysan said that he had seen her deliver sermon to a crowd of women around her. (Ibid p 403)

Umm ul-Hakam Ayshah bint Muhammad Baghdadiyah was known as al-Wa'izah (the one who sermonizes). Dahhabi said that she was very pious and delivered sermon to women. (Al-Ibn v 5 p 168)

Umm Ahmad Zulaykha bint Ilyas Ghaznawiyyah was also known as al-Wa'izah. Saintly, ascetic woman, she visited people at their homes and admonished them. (Fasi in al-Aqd ath-Thamin v8 p236)

The services of Umm Zaynab Fatimah bint Abbas

Baghdadiyah, the highly learned scholar, are very significant in this field. Not the woman of Baghdad alone but of Dimishq and Cairo also derived immense benefit from her. Therefore, she was called chief of the women. Imam Dhahabi wrote that women gained much from her and many repented from their sins. She was a very sincere and God-fearing scholar who discharged her duty of enjoining that which is right and forbidding what is wrong. People of every rank respected her and she was very dear to them. (Zayl ibr, Dahabi p 80)

Critics have written about Khayrunah Fasiyah that she was much instrumental in disseminating the tenets of the Ash'aries among the women of Faas. She was well-known in the western (Muslim) lands.

When Ibn Jawzi's son Abul Muazin Yusuf ibn abdur Rahman was orphaned at the age of seventeen, the mother of Khalifah Nasir Abbasi looked after him and appointed him to deliver sermons in place of his father Ibn Jawzi. He was given much respect and he became prominent among his contemporaries as a sermonizer. (Tabogat al-Mujassirin v 2, p 281)

Tasawwuf:

Many there were among the daughters of Islam, devoted to Allah, who created in the women of Islam an urge to purify their souls. These pious women had their khanqah (recluse) where devotional exercises and a rot of worship caused a reformation in the hearts of women in general.

We have read about Umm Ahmad Zulaykha Ghaznawiyyah and Fatimah bint Husayn Raziyah, both known as Al-Wa'izah. Both were Sufis and Ibn Jawzi said about the latter that she had a khanqah where pious women gathered. (Al-Muntatim v 10 p 2)

Tajun Nisa bint Rustam Isfahani took up residence in Makkah and lived a life of strict simplicity and deeply religious. Taqiuddin Makki described her as the foremost of Makkah Sufis. (Al-Qad ath-Thamin v 8, p 192) And he said of the famous Makkah woman scholar Safiyah bint Ibrahim that she was the Shaykh of the women Sufis of Madinah and Makkah and the servant of the poor there. (Ibid, p 259) He meant that she was the guide leader of the ascetic women of the two Harms, correcting and training them and she also served the male poor, worshippers and sufis. The historians have called Zuhrah bint Muhammad ibn Ahmad the pious (female) sheykh and sufi. There was in Damascus a Ribat uz-Zuhrah, a retreat. She resided in its neighbourhood and trained the female sufis lodged in the retreat. Fatimah bint Muhammad Qastalaniyah Makkiyah was not only a (female) muhaddith but also a great sufi. She had donned the rag of Tasawwuf from Shaykh Najmuddin Tabr ayzi. Then she put a rag of Tasawwuf on every prominent Muhaddith whom she had taught. (Al-Iqd ath Thamin v 8, p 259)

Fatimah bint Abdur Rahman hurraniyah was given the title sufiyah. Khatib Baghdadi and Ibn Jawzi said that she always threw over herself the suf (ضرف) which is a woolen blanket and she slept on her prayer rug without a bedding for sixty years. (Al-Iqd ath Thamin v 8, p 287)

Aasiyah Muqaddisiyah was the sister of Hafiz Diyauddin Maqdisi and wife of Shaykh Majuddin Eesa. She was a distinguished worshipper of her times, much advanced in religion, honesty, piety and good work. It says in Kitab ul Mushtabah that she had also memorised the Qur'an and dutifully observed routine exercises of supplication and remembrance of Allah, and that she was a unique woman. (Ibid)

In conclusion, we see that women have not missed any field of sciences and arts and Islamic deeds. They have gained prominence in every branch of Islamic life. They served not only fellow women but also the men.

Poetry and literature:

Women of Islam also played a prominent part in Arabic literature and poetry and their achievements stand out. High ranking male poets acknowledged the superiority of some women poets and litterateurs.

Maryam bint Abu Ya'qub Andulusiyah was one such woman. She was very religious and very exceptional. She had travelled from Andalus for Hajj and visit and taught these subjects to women there. She was a permanent resident of Ishbiliyah. She was very respected because of her religion and saintliness. Her work was much accepted after the fourth century. The Amir of Andalus Ibn al-Mahhad sent her dinars in recognition of her poetry. (Baytiriyatul Mutanas p 528)

Another poetess of Andalus was Ghasaniyah who resided at Bujayah. She composed poetry eulogizing kings and amirs, like the one for amir Maryah Khayran Aamiri matching the official poet Abu Umar Ahmad ibn Darraj's eulogy. (Ibid, p 529)

Another poetess of Andalus who excelled in this department was Dodi Aasiyah. She recited poetry in praise of the amirs. She travelled from Aaih to Ishbiliyah and read out her poetry to Khalifah Abu Ya'qub. (Ibid p 530) Nazhun was a famous poetess of Gharnatah. She was known for her extempore composition and exchange of witty remarks. (Ibid p 530)

Wallahah was the daughter of Mistafibillah Muhammad ibn Abdur Rahman, the governor of Andalus. She was a poetess and a literary woman. Her words carried weight. She always discussed literary issues with others in this field. She died in Safar 484 AH. (Ibid p 532)

Sarah bint Ahmad ibn Uthman (d 750 AH) was a poetess of western Aqsa. She was so excellent in literary and poetic works that Ibn Salun took pride in having her permission. She had a literary relationship with Rashid Fahri.

The famous (female) Muhaddith and pious woman of Makkah, Khadijah bint Shaykh Shahabuddin Nuwayri was also a poetess. She recited very good poetry and composed many poems in praise of Allah's Messenger. (Al-Iqd, p 8 p 208)

The muhaddithah and faqihah Zaynab bint Kamaluddin Hashmi also resided in Makkah. She was very intelligent, noble and honorable and had an excellent taste for poetry. She had memorized many poems. (Ibid p 233)

Umm al-Husayn the daughter of Makkah's judge, Schabuddin Tabari was also a great poet. Her poetry was much famous. (Ibid p 231)
She concerned it in a very clear manner and sent it to the Ghaith ibn Ali Umm Achievement of Muslim Women in the Religious and Scholarly Fields

Ibn Khalikan said about Umm Ali Taqiyyah bint Abul Faraj Ghayth ibn Ali Salma Suri that she was a great scholar who wrote excellent poetry. She once recited an ode in praise of Al-Huzzafar Taqiuddin Umar, the nephew of Sultan Salahuddin Ayyubi mentioning wine and what goes with it. When the amir read it, he said, "She knows of these things since her childhood." Umm Ali wrote another ode about war and everything concerning it in a very clear manner and sent it to the amir with the message, "I know of this as I do of that." She was born in Damascus in Safar 505 AH and died in the initial days of Shawwal in 579 AH. (Ibn Khalikan v 1 p 103)

Calligraphy and composition:

Women have been good calligraphers and writers of prose and scribes. Rulers have availed of their services in official correspondence.

The scribe, Umm ul-fadl Fatimah bint Hasan ibn Ali al-Aqra Baghdadiyah was better known by her Kunyah Bint al-Aqra. She was recognized as the best scribe and calligrapher of her times. She copied exactly the script of the well-known scribe Ibn al-Bawwab and many aspirants learnt the art from her. Dhahabi (Al-Ibr v 3 p 296) and Ibn Jawzi confirmed this.

Abu Nazr Abdul Malik Kindri summoned her to Jabal and asked her to write down the peace treaty between him and the Christian king of Rome. It was written on only one page and Bint Al-Aqra' was paid one thousand dinars for that. (Al-Muntazim v 9 p 40)

Amat ul Aziz Khadijah bint Yusuf was a scholar and a muhaddithah. She also had an excellent handwriting, having acquired training from the well-known calligraphers. (Bahahabi, al-Ibr v 5 p 398)

Fakhr un Nisa, Shahdah bint Ahmad was well-known as a Katibah (calligrapher). Ibn Jawzi praised her calligraphy. (Al-Muntazim v 10 p 288) Ibn Khalikan also said that she was a scholar who had an excellent handwriting. (v 1 p 245)

The well-known scribe and literary woman of Andalus, Murrah, was the chief scribe of Amir An-Nasir Ladinullah and also a clerk. She had a good hand. She died in 358 AH. (Baghyyatul-Muttamis p 530)

The scribe Muniyah was the (female) slave of khalifah Mut'amid Aliullah Abbasi She was known as al-katibah because of her excellent handwriting. She was also a clerk. She had learnt hadith from Abu Tayyib Muhamamd ibn Ishaq, and Ubaydullah ibn Husayn Bazzaz Anbari narrated from her. (Tarikh Baghdad v 14 p 442) Among the talented scholars of Andalus, Safiyah bint Abdullah stood out for her calligraphy.

Of the female scholars of Andalus one Lubna was also a scribe and clerk. She was the chief scribe of Khalifah Hakam ibn Abdur Rahman Umawi. She was entrusted with the official correspondence. She was also a good accountant, a poet, a grammarian and an expert in prosody and other sciences. (Baghyyatul Muttamis p 530)

Ayshah bint Umarah ibn Yahya Sharif Bujaviyah Afriqiyyah was a literary woman and a poet who possessed an excellent handwriting. She transcribed a book of eighteen volumes in her own hand. (Unwen ud-Deriyah p 47)

Ibn Fayyyad has mentioned in Akhbar Qur tubah that there were in the eastern Qurtubah a hundred and seventy accomplished female scholars who transcribed the Qur'an in the Kufi script.

Share of Mothers in upbringing children:

As queens and shepherds of their homes, women of Islam took deep interest in training their children. The mother put in tremendous effort to impart to her children religious training and make them heirs of great leaders and chiefs. We cite some examples that should serve as a lesson for our mothers of today.

Imam Yazid Ibn Harun Wasti (d 206 AH) held a high rank among the taba' tabi'ìn (successors of the successors of the sahabah.). He recounted his life story as a student, saying, "I was away from my family for many years. At Baghdad, I learnt of a tabi'i scholar at Askar. I went to him and requested..."
him to narrate to me a hadith. He narrated:

Hadāthī Anas bin Mālik Ṛṣūd Allāh ʿAlayhi wa Salām from Abū Dhaqāqa Allāh Ḷalīlī Allāh ʿAlayhi wa Salām

[Anas ibn Maalik narrated that Allah's Messenger mentioned the hadith of the shaykh of Askar, so I ceased.]

The Shaykh then said that he would not narrate any other hadith. Then I returned to my native land. I reached home at night and did not knock at the door lest I wake up my family. However, I opened the door somehow and went in. My night and did not knock at the door lest I wake up my family.

The classes of Rabi'ah Ra'i were held in Masjid Nabawi and the elite of Madinah attended his classes. He was the first Shaykh and teacher of Imam Maalik. His mother chose him and he came out of his assembly as an imam.

Imam Maalik's Mother:

She was Aaliyah bint Sharik ibn Abdur Rahman ibn Sharik Azdi. (janharatu Ansab ul Arab p 436) She was a very intelligent, learned woman. She paid special attention to the training and education of her son Maalik. He reported that when he said to his mother that he wished to acquire religious knowledge, she said, "Come I will dress you up in ulama's clothing." Then, she made him wear bare clothing and put on his head a tawilah (black, long cap) and tied the turban over it. She said, "Go to Rabi'ah and learn his manners before his knowledge." Or, she said, "Go! Write now." (Al-Muhaddithin al-Fadil p 201, Tariqul Madarik v 1 p 119)

Mother of Sufyan ibn Uyaynah:

Sufyan ibn Uyaynah was a glorious taba taba scholar and teacher of Imam Shafi'i. He said that if Maalik and Sufyan were not there, knowledge would have disappeared from the Hijaz. His mother got him to acquire religious education in a manner that Muslim mothers should emulate. Waki ibn Jarrah was student of Imam ibn Uyaynah. He said that the imam's mother said, "Dear son! Acquire knowledge. I will work to meet your needs. Son, when you have written ten ahadith, observe yourself and see if you have improved in your manners and habits or not. If you do not find an improvement then know that this knowledge is harmful to you, not beneficial." (Tarikul Jurjan, Sahmi p 449)

With her encouragement and under her examining eye, he learnt hadith from more than seventy-eight ulama among the tabi'in. He is regarded among the wise men of hadith. Allah's creatures derived benefit from him.

Imam Ibn Uyaynah used to disclose to his students, "When I went to the classes of Ibn Shihab Zuhri, I had earrings on my ears and a ponytail on my head. He saw me and said, 'Sit down here. Here! I have not seen a younger scholar.'"

Nadr Hilaly said that when he was in the class of Sufyan ibn Uyaynah, a child came whom the students looked with disgust. But, Ibn Uyaynah said to them "You too were like this. Allah has favoured you." To Nadr, he said, "O Nadr! If you had seen me when I was ten years old, you would have been surprised. I was just fire span tall and my face was like a dinar and I was like a spark of fire. My garments were dishevelled and very short and cramped. And I attended the gatherings of the Ulama of different cities, like Ibn Shihab Zuhri and Amr ibn Dinar ......... The people would comment, 'the little shaykh is here.'" (Al-Kifayah p 60-61)

Mother of Imam Awza'i:

Shaykh ul-Islam, Imam Awza'i's name was Abdur Rahman ibn Amr ibn Muhammad Awza'i. His school of thought
Achievements of Muslim Women in the Religious And Scholarly Fields  54

(about fiqh) was operative up to the third century. He gave oral answers to eighty thousand questions. He was a great scholar. He owed all that to his mother who educated and trained him. He had lost his father very early. So his mother raised him up till he became shaykh ul-Islam. "He was born in Ba'labak and his mother brought him up. The way she taught him manners, a Sultan is unable to teach." (Tadhkira tul ittustad v1 p 169) According to another report, he was born in Ba'labak and raised up in Kark. Then his mother took him to Beirut where she died. Imam Awza'i had great merits.

Mother of Imam Ibn Ulayyah:

The flower of the jurists and scholars of hadith. Imam Isma'il ibn Ibrahim ibn Miqsam Busri was known as Ibn Ulayyah through his mother's relationship. His grandfather Miqsam was taken captive in Sindh at Qayqan and was enslaved by Abdur Rahman ibn Asad ibn Qutbab Asadi. His father, Ibrahim, was a cloth merchant in Kufah. He travelled to Busra often and there he married Ulayyah bint Hassan. She was a slave of Banu Shayban. Ibn Sa'd wrote about this in Tabaqat Kubra. "She was a respected, intelligent and distinguished woman. Her home was known by her in Awqah in Busra. Salih Murri and the elite of Busra used to visit her. She met them and discussed with them religious issues."

Imam Isma'il Busri was born to her in 110 AH. She raised him up and trained him so that he grew up to be prominent among the fuqaha and muhaddithin. The famous muhaddith Abdul Warith reported that Ulayyah bint Hassan brought her son Isma'il to him and he was the most handsome boy of Busra. She said to him. "This my son will stay with you and learn manners from you." He kept the boy with him and sent him ahead to the gatherings of the men of learning and he would follow to the Shaykh of the gathering. He trained him in such a way that in the eyes of the learned men, he was raised to a position higher than the teacher. (Abdul Warith)

Imam Ibrahim Harbi said, "When Ibn Ulayyah emerged from the company of Shaykh Abdul Warith, the people of Busra had no doubt whatsoever that he was more trustworthy than Abdul Warith in knowledge of hadith." (Tarikh Baghdad v1 p 231)

Imagine the society in which slaves were so much interested in learning, how high must have been the scholarly and religious life then. They were three brothers- Isma'il, Hammad and Muhammad, and all three were known Ibn Ulayyah from their mother. Their children too were known by this name and kunyah. All three were accomplished scholars of their times and attained the high station under their mother's training. (More about them may be seen in my Urdu Book Aather wa Achar.)

Mother of Sha'bah ibn Hajjaj:

Imam Sha'bah ibn Hajjaj Wasti Busri had seen both Anas ibn Mallik and Amr ibn Salamah. He also narrated hadith from four hundred tabi'in. His mother was a scholar and paid particular attention to his son's education. Imam Sha'bah said, "May mother said to me, "A woman here narrates hadith from Sayyidah Ayshah. Go and hear the hadith from her." I went to her and heard the hadith from her and I told my mother about it. She said, 'Now Allah will not question you about (shortfall in) religious knowledge." When a mother has such thoughts, naturally her son will be an imam. Imam Ahmad ibn Hanbal lauded Sha'bah's perception in biographies of narrators and hadith.

Mother of Imam Shafi'i:

His name was Muhammad ibn Idris ibn Abbas. His mother was Fatimah bint Abdullah ibn Hasan ibn Hasan ibn Ali ibn Abu Talib. She said that when she was pregnant with Shafi'i, she dreamt that the star Jupiter come out of for bodiy and dropped in Cairo spreading its light in every city. This was interpreted that a scholar will be born to her whose knowledge would spread to every city from Cairo. (Tarikh Baghdad v2, p 58)

The father of the imam had died before he was born - or, immediately thereafter -- so, the responsibility was placed on his mother to maintain him. He was born in 150 AH in Ghazzah, in However, according to another report, he was born in Asqalan and his mother took him to Makkah. She had no money and he could not serve the teacher, but taught other children when the teacher was not there. So the teacher taught him without any fee.

Imam Shafi’i would listen to hadith from the Ulama and remember them. His mother did not have enough money that he might write them down on paper, so he would scavenged bones and leaves of date and write down hadith thereon. When the journey to Yaman become necessary, the lack of money did not allow them to make preparations and get garments. So he pledged his mothers cloak for sixteen dinars and bought the necessities of the journey. (Mukhtesar Sawanah al’Inai)

Mother of Ahmad ibn Hanbal

The name of the mother of Imam Ahmad ibn Hanbal Shaybani Baghdadhi was Safiya bint Maymunah bint Abdul Malik Shaybani. The imam’s father died when he was three years old and he said that he had not seen his father and grandfather, and his mother had brought him up.

She raised him up with strict care and love so much so that the rich envied him. The way he was brought up. Abu Siraj said that his father was astonished at the good character and nobility of Ahmad ibn Hanbal. He would say, ‘I spend much money on training my children, get them tutors, but I am hopeless while this orphan Ahmad-see how good he is.”

As long as she was alive, the imam’s mother kept herself aware of his doings and was kind to him. In 186 AH when the imam was twenty-two years old the river Tigris was in terrible flood. During the same time the muhaddith of Ray, Jarir ibn Abdul Hamid came to Baghdad. The imam’s companions travelled through the flood to learn hadith from him, but the mother of the imam did not permit him to go. So, he did not go. Similarly, whenever the imam wished to go to a muhaddith in the darkness of early dawn, she would not allow him to go, out of her love for him. She would ask him to wait for the light to spread.

Mother of Imam Bukhari

Imam Muhammad ibn Isma’il Bukhari was also an orphan in that his father had died and his mother took over responsibility for his education and training. She grew in him an interest in his childhood to acquire knowledge. He was born in 194 AH and he took the first lesson in hadith in 205 AH at the age of eleven plus. He memorized the books of Abdullah ibn Mubarak in childhood and narrated hadith from the muhaddithin of his city, Muhammad ibn Sallarn, Muhammad ibn Abdullah and Muhammad ibn Yusuf. He memorized seventy thousand hadith. Salim ibn Mujahid said, ‘One day I was a little late to the classes of Muhammad ibn Sallarn. He told me that if I had come earlier I would have met a child who remembers seventy thousand hadith. Then I asked Muhammad ibn Isma’il and he confirmed that he remembered more than that number.” (Tabagat ash-shayyah al-Kubra v 2 p 218)

Then, after acquiring knowledge from the muhaddithin of his native city, he travelled with his sister and mother in search of knowledge. (Buhahi- Tadzikat al-Huffaz, v 2 p 123)

He was fifteen or sixteen years old at that time. When he was eighteen, he wrote At-Tarikh al-Kabir. He said, "when I was n my eighteenth year, I began to put together the judgments and sayings of the Sahabah. During that time, I also wrote kitab ut-Tarikh near the Prophet’s grave in moonlight.” (Tarikh Baghdad v 2 p 3 Ibn Khallikan v 2 p 28)

It is also reported that he performed hajj with his mother and elder brother. After the hajj, his brother returned home but he pursued his studies.
Among his work Sahih al-Bukhari is the most correct of books after Allah's Book. It was because of his mother's care of him that he excelled among the muhaddithin.

Mother of Zaynud-Din Al-Awqas

The case of the qadi of Makkah, Muhammad ibn Abdur Rahman Al-Awqas is very strange. His neck did not stand out of his body and his shoulders protruded out. He was short statured and ugly. His mother was very intelligent and, naturally, worried about this son. She said to him, "Son wherever you go, people will make fun of you. So, acquire knowledge. It will raise you above others."

Imam Awqas confirmed this report adding, "Allah gave me profit from her advice and I learnt fiqh and religion and became a qadi."

He was Makkah's qadi for twenty years. He was awe-inspiring and the disputants trembled before him. One day while he was praying to Allah.

(O Allah, save my neck from the Hell), a woman said, "O nephew! Where do you have a neck." (Al-Faqih wal-Muttafiqah v 1 p.32)

Mother of Umar ibn Harun Bakhi

Abu Hars Umar ibn Harun Balkhi Thaqafi was among the well-known ulama and muhaddithin of his times in Khurasan. He was a personification of the sciences of religion. His mother was literate and lent a hand to his son in his scholarly pursuits. Abu Ghassan said that she helped him write down the hadith. (Tadhkira al-Huffaz v 1 p.311)

He narrated hadith from Imams Maalik, Ibn Jurayj, Sha'bah ibn Hajjaj, Sufyan Thawri and others. His students included Imam Ahmad ibn Hanbal and Isma'il ibn Ibrahim, the father of Imam Bukhari.

Mother of Zaynuddin Dimishqi:

The mother of Imam Zaynuddin Ali ibn Ibrahim Dimishqi Misri was a great scholar she had memorized her father's thirty-volume exegesis, Al-Jawahir. She paid much attention to her son's education and helped him in his studies, and prayed for him. Nasihuddin confirmed that she was pious, a hafiz and an exegete. (Tabaqat al Hamshahiy v 1 p 440)

Mother of Hajjaj ibn Yusuf Baghdaadi

Abu Ahmad Hajjaj ibn Yusuf ibn Hajjaj Baghdadi was better known as Hajjaj ibn ash-Sha'ir. He was a great scholar of hadith, singular muhaddith of his times. He had attained that station because of the care and attention of his mother. He said, "My mother prepared for me a hundred loaves of bread which I put in a bag and travelled to Baghdad to Imam Shababah. I stayed there for a hundred days eating a loaf every day after diluting it in the river Tigris. When I had exhausted them I returned." (Tadhkira al-Huffaz)

His Shaykhs included Abu Dawud Tiyalisi, Ya'qub ibn Ibrahim, Hajjaj Al-A'war, Muslim, Baqi ibn Mukhлад and Abdur Rahman ibn Abu Hatim learnt hadith from him.

Mother of Ibrahim Harbi

Abu Ishaq Ibrahim ibn Ishaq Harbi Baghdaadi (d 285 AH) was a contemporary of Imam Ahmad ibn Hanbal and like him in his learning, deeds and piety. He returned home every day at the time of isha when his mother had ready for him his very simple meal. He lived the life of extreme poverty, but never complained of it to his mother, brother, sister or wife. He said, "Man is he who endures his sorrow and does not grieve his family." (Al-Muntazim v 6 p 4)

Mother of Abu Jafar ibn Bistam:

Abul Hasan ibn Farat, the minister of the Khalifah, al-Muqatadir billah, once asked Shaykh Abu Jafar Bistam, "What is this about your bread?" he said, "My old mother was very pious. Right from the time of my birth, she would place a broad under the bed on which I slept in the night and give it away in the morning as a sadaqah from me. So, I continue to do it till today." The minister said, "I had a very bad opinion about you and wished to arrest you. For three nights running I am dreaming that I fight you to arrest you but you carry a bread in your hand that shields you from my arrow. Go, you are now protected." (Muntazim v 4 p 192)

Mother of An Nasir Abbasi & son of Ibn Jawzi

When Imam Ibn Jawzi died, his son Imam Yusuf ibn Abdur Rahman ibn Jawzi was only seventeen years old. So the responsibility to educate and rear him was taken up by the mother of Khalifah an-Nasir Abbasi, Jihah. She appointed him successor to his father to sermonise and admonish and he held that office till he was twenty-three when the Khalifah made him an inspecting officer of the eastern and western areas of Baghdad. Allah caused Yusuf ibn Jawzi to gain great acclaim. The Khalifah sent him as envoy to many Kings. He built a Madrasah in Damascus and donated a large property to it. He also built other two madrasahs in Baghdad in the areas Halbiya and Harbiya where he is buried. He was teaching in the Madrasah Mustansariyah in Baghdad till 656 AH when he was martyred in the uprising of the Tartars. (Tabagat at-Mufasserin v 2 p 38)

Respect of Mothers:

The Qur'an and hadith lay great emphasis on giving respect and honour to parents. They assure a great reward for serving them. A mother's right over her children is much particularly if she educates and trains her children. The Ulama always respected such mothers.

Hasan Busri:

Once he saw leek in his mother's hand and he said to her, "Throw away this dirty plant." Khayrah - for this was his mother's name - said. "Shut up! You have grown old." He laughed and asked her, "Who is older -- I or you?" (Tahdhib at-Tahdhib v 12 p 416)

Ghazwan Raqashi

He was given to much worship and simple life. He was a scholar and recited the Qur'an very much. His mother was illiterate. One day he was reciting the Quran and his mother asked him, "O Ghazwan, we had lost a camel during the jahiliyah, do you find it in the Quran?" He did not mind her words and did not reprimand her, but said very politely, "O mother! By Allah, I find here a promise of good reward." He used to participate in jihad. Whenever warriors returned home, his mother would go out to welcome them and ask, "Do you know Ghazwan?" They would say, "O old woman, of course, he is our commander." (Tabalat Ibn Sa'd v 7 p 217) Ghazwan had not laughed for forty years. When someone asked him why, he asked, "What will I do with that?"

Mis'ar ibn Kidam Kufi

He never stayed at any place but his home and the mosque. His mother was very pious. Whenever he went to the mosque, he would carry a soft mattress and take his mother along. There he would spread out the mattress so that his mother could pray on it. He prayed elsewhere within the mosque and sat down to teach hadith to his students. Then he would take his mother along, carry the mattress and return home. This was his daily routine. (Tabagat Ibn Sa'd v 6 p 365)

Ahmad ibn Ali Abbar Baghdadi

His mother was a very kind hearted woman. She loved her son dearly and he was very obedient and serving to her. Once, he sought her permission to go to Imam Qutaybah and learn ahadith, but she did not give him permission. When she died, Imam Abbar travelled to Balkh where he learnt that Imam Qutaybah had died and Imam Abbar travelled to Balkh where he learnt that Imam Qutaybah had died already. The scholars there sympathized with him. (Tahdiqat ul hadfa, v 2 p 193)

Abu Hanifah

His parents were very pious and he always prayed for them. He respected his mother very much and always pleased her. He said, "I have divided my deeds into three -- for myself, for my parents and for my teachers."
His father was the first to die and later, in 130 AH, his mother died.

The imam obeyed his mother in whatever she said. Whenever he went to the gathering of Umar ibn Firar, he took her on a beast. Once, she vowed to do something and asked him to give a verdict about it but was not satisfied with his answer. She said, "I will only be at peace when you find out from the sermoniser, Zar'ah." So he took her to Zar'ah and she put her question to him. He said, the faqih of Kufah is with you. Why ask me?" So, the imam, out of respect for his mother, said, "I will dictate the edict and you issue it." That way she was pleased.

The Amir of Kufah, Yazid ibn Umar ibn Hubayrah offered the imam the post of judge but he refused the job. So, Yazid flogged him a hundred and ten whips. He said that he was not as padded with the punishment as with the grief it caused his mother who said to him, "Nu'man give up this knowledge for which you had to suffer." He said, "Mother, if I had sought the world with this knowledge then I would have earned much but I have acquired it only to please Allah and to earn deliverance." (Akhter Abu Hanifah wa Ashabih p 52, LiqdUl Jumah p 292 Tarikh Baghdad v 13, p 266)

Abu Muzaffar Sam'ani

The author of Kitab al-Ansab, Abu Sa'd Sam'ani Maruzi reported that his grand father, Abul Muzaffar Samarani went to Makkah to acquire the company of the Shaykh of haram, Imam Sa'd ibn Ali (d 471 AH). While he was there he dreamt that his mother adjured him by her rights on him to return home. She could not endure his separation. He decided to consult Sa'd ibn Ali and went to him in the morning. But the crowd of students and aspirants around him prevented him. So, when the imam stood up to go home, he followed him. The imam turned to him and said, "Abul Muzaffar! The old woman waits for you," and he stepped into his house. So, Abul Muzaffar returned home that very year. (Thulth Kutubul Hifzah, v 3 p 346).

Men ascribed to their mothers

There were many Ulama and religious men whose mothers were accomplished scholars or talented in some way, or were prominent in rearing up their sons. These men were known by their mothers, not their fathers. In fact some of sahabah were also known by their mothers.

Shurahbil ibn Hasanah. His father was Abdullah ibn Muta' ibn Amr ibn Kindah. His mother was Hasanah.

Bashir ibn Khasasiyah. His father was Ma'bad ibn Sharahil while his mother Khasasiyah was Kabshah (or Marya) bint Umar ibn Harith Azdi.

Ibn Umm Maktum. His name was Amribn Qays. His mother Umm Maktum was Aatikah bint Abdullah.

Ibn Buhaynah. He was Abdullah ibn Maalik. His mother was Buhaynah bint Harith ibn Mutallib ibn Abd Munaf.

Mu'adh ibn Afra. His name was Mu'adh ibn Harith ibn Riba'ah. His mother was Afra bint Ubayd.

Harith ibn Barsa. He was Harith ibn Maalik. His mother was Barsa bint Rabia'. (Al-Haithil al-Fasil pp 269-270)

Here are some of the Ulama and muhaddithin known by their mother.

Ibn Ulayyah was Isma'il ibn Ibrahim and his mother was Ulayyah bint Hassan.

Ibn Ayshah was Muhammad in Hafsh ibn Umar and his mother was Ayshah bint Ubaydullah ibn Abdullah.

Ibn Bint Suddi was Isma'il ibn Musa Farari and his mother was Bint Isma'il ibn Abdur Rahman Suddi.

Ibn Bint Ash-Shafi'i was Ahmad ibn Muhammad ibn Abdullah and his mother was Zaynab bint (Imam) Shafi'i.

Ibn Umm Qasim was Hazan ibn Qasim ibn Abdullah Muradi. He was ascribed to his paternal grand-mother who was Zuhra a well-known woman of her native land. She had come from Maghrib (Morocco) and settled in Egypt.
Achievements of Muslim Women in the Religious And Scholarly Fields

Ibn Umamah was Ahmad ibn Abdullah Andalusi Maaliki, and Umamah was his mother.

Ibn Barakah was Abu Muhammad Abdullah ibn Muhammad Sabuni Qurtubi Maliki. His mother was Barakah.

Ibn Bint Mahdi was Abu Hasan Ali ibn Tamam Qayrwani Maaliki.

Building madrasahs

Madrasahs (religious schools) were built in the fourth century. Till then, the scholars had circles of learning in their homes or in mosques. They were no less productive than today's colleges and Darul-Uloom. Even women scholars held classes at home. Then with the advent of the madrasah, there arose girls, madrasah too. The first one for the daughters of Islam came up in west Aqsa at Faas in 245 AH and is very much there today by the name Jami' Qardiyyin. It is a universal institution for the Islamic world. It was built by a pious, kind-hearted woman Umm ul-Banin Fatimah bint Muhammad ibn Fahriyah. She was very careful when buying the land so that there was no inkling of doubt that unlawful earnings could have found their way in the investment. Besides, she kept fast, from the day the foundation was laid till the building was erected, to please Allah. She bought the land from a man of the tribe Huwarah and invested from the family inheritance and laid the foundation on Saturday, 1st Ramadan 245 AH.

The sister of Umm ul-Banin, Maryam bint Muhammad ibn Abdullah Fahriyah built a mosque in the same year, 245 AH. She invested the money she had inherited from her father. Later, their mosque became famous as Jami' al Andalusi and continued to pour out knowledge for centuries. In the fourth century it was designated a branch of the Jami' Qardiyyin. (Hadir ul Aalam al-Islami)

The well-known scholar of Andalus, Fatimah Ghalimah bint Muhammad imparted education to women in every science. Hence, she was known as al-Mu'allimah. (Baghiy al ulMutlmanas p 531)

Maryam bint Abu Ya'qub Shalibah was another scholar of Andalus. She performed hajj and became famous as a hajjah. She taught women etiquette and religion and was very religious. She lived a long life. (Ibid p 528)

Both these women had madrasah for women where they taught.

The daughter of the qadi of Makkah, Shahabuddin Tabari, Umm ul-Husayn, was scholar of hadith and a faqihah. She was very pious and engaged in many social works in Makkah including erection of an orphanage and she also endowed many properties in Makkah and outside it towards this end. (Al-lqd ath-Thanuin v 8, p 342)

A very kind woman was behind the Madrasah Qatibayi in Makkah. This royal madrasah is a sign of the sentiments of a poor woman. In 863 AH, the Sultan of Egypt Qatibayi wrote to the royal attorney at Makkah that he should build a Madrasah in his name, and the four schools of thought should be taught. He also asked that a poor house be erected with seventy-two rooms for the orphans who should be paid enough stipend. When the attorney searched for a place, the woman of Banu al-Hasan, Sharifah Shamsiyah offered her own house. It was bought and the madrasah was built. It was situated between Babus-Salaam and Bab un-Nabi and provided benefit for a long period of time. (Tarikh Makkah, p 227)

There was a madrasah in Zuhayd in Zuhayd in Yaman, Madrasah Umm us-Sultan al-Mujahid. Shaykh Abu Ishaq Ibrahim ibn Umar Alawi was the teacher. There were madrasahas in Damascus, the Udharwiyad, Khanuniyah Barraniyah, and they were very famous. They were built by women and the ulama and muhaddith used to teach there. We will mention other madrasah of women later on.

Retreats and poor houses

The women of Islam also built inns and retreats where women lived in peace, worshipping Allah and leading an ascetic life. Zuhra bint Muhammad was a very pious woman and a sufi.
Achievements of Muslim Women in the Religious And Scholarly Fields

She had built a retreat in Damascus, Ribat az-Zehrah and resided in its neighbourhood. Fatimah bint Husayn Raziyah was also a very God-fearing woman who built inns for women worshippers and Sufis.

Many women had built inns and retreats in Makkah where female worshippers could devote themselves in peace. Tqduddin Faasi has mentioned some of these retreats. Qayrnannah of the caliph Muqtadi Abbasi built an inn in 492 AH called Faqa'i ah to cater to widows who had no one to look after them. An inn Raibat Umm ul-Khalifah was built in the name of the caliph an-Nasir Abbasi in 577 AH. Sharifah Patimah bint Amir Abu Layla Muhammad built Ribat Khatun in 577 AH. Umm ul-Husayn bint Shahabuddin Tabriyah Makkiyah set aside Ribat as-Sayyidah for the poor and needy.

The mother of Imam Qutubuddin Qastalani and other women of Makkah together built Ribat al-Masajah for lonely and alien religious-minded women. Ribat bint ul-Taj was built for the women who had migrated to Makkah to engage in worship and devotional exercises.

The two daughters of Abu Murthid Mubarak ibn Abdullah Qasmi, Umm Khalil Khadijah and Umm Eesa Maryam purchased the Ribat Ibn ab-Sawda and set it aside for the pious and sufi women of the shafi'i school of thought who had no husband.

Umm Sulayman and Bint al-Harbi got together and built Zawiyah Umm Sulayman and Ribat Bint Al-Harabi, two retreats for the women worshippers of Makkah.

The wife of the Sultan of Yaman al-Ashraf Isma'il ibn Fadl, Karimah built an inn Ribat al-Jahtah in Makkah and made an endowment of it. (Shufa al-Gharam, Iqad ath-Thamin)

Banafshah (d 573 AH) was called Jihatu Mu'zamah. She was an accomplished scholar. She had built an inn and a retreat for the female sufis in Suqa1-Madinah. It was opened on 1st Rajab and Banafshah arranged a large feast on the occasion. She invited many pious women and sermons and words of advice were spoken. Banafshah distributed some property among the participants. And, one room in the ribat was given to the sister of the shaykh of Zawzni, Abu Bakr Sufi. (al-Muinazim v 10 p. 271)

Free water supply in Makkah

The benevolence of Zubaydah, the wife of Harun Rashid were very apparent in Makkah and Madinah in the many good things that she did there. The river Zubaydah speaks volumes for this kind hearted women whose charity and pious works are too many. A brief account will follow.

Umm ul Husayn had donated a source of free supply of water near the place of Sa'i. Sufiyah Umm Sulayman had built one such source near Jannat ul-Ma'la (the grave yard). The sister of Malik Nasir the King of Egypt had donated the sabil as-sitt (source of water). Zaynab bint Qadi Shahabuddin had donated the sabil as-Sayyidah providing free water to consign reward to her brother. The Khalifah Muqtadir Abbasi and his mother had built a supply of water Sabil Jawkhi and donated it for the public. Sufiyah Umm Sulayman had built a toilet (and bathroom) only for women in the neighbourhood Suq al-Layl. (Shufa al-Gharam, Iqad ath-Thamin)

Public welfare construction by women of high officers

Having given examples of religious and welfare construction by poor women, we present examples of some women of the rulers and the rich. In fact, a number of them have run the government and earned a name for themselves. The non-Arab women of this strata have been prominent in doing such work. Let today's Muslim women of the rulers and the rich come forward and do such philanthrophic work. River Zubaydah:

Umm Ja'far Zubaydah wife of Khalifah Harun Rashid was Amatul Aziz. Her grandfather Abu Ja'far Mansur had called her in her childhood 'Zubaydah', and that name was taken up. She had a hundred female slaves who had memorized the Qur'an, and each recited one-tenth of the Qur'an every day as her rota. The palace echoed with their recital. Zubaydah is known for many pious works among them the River Zubaydah flows through Makkah even today. She had it channeled through mountains from Hunayn originating at a spring and terminating at Makkah, and a second one from the valley Nu'man to Arafat. Her manager protested that the cost would be stupendous but she waived him away saying, "Go ahead even if each strike of the hammer costs a dinar." It is said that the river cost her seventeen hundred thousand dinars. When the manager submitted the accounts after the work was accomplished, she said, "Let us leave the accounts for the day of accounts."

Since then the rulers continue to have the river cleaned and repaired. The Muslims of India—rulers and layman—have also taken part in it since the last hundred years through those who have settled in Makkah.

Next Zubaydah had five ponds made in Makkah, bought some of its houses and gave them to a trust, Dar Arqam was one of them. She commanded her servant Yasar to build a place for ablution in the Bab (Gate) Ahya Kabir. This pious woman did many other works of public utility. She died in Jumadul Ula, 216 AH. (Ibn Khallikan v1 p 208, Al-Aqth Thamin v1 p 126, Tarikh Makkah).

Hajj with grandeur:

The daughter of Sultan Nasir uddawlah ibn Hamdan, Princess Jamilah, performed hajj in 366 AH with great majesty. There were four hundred litters—covered and curtained couches—carrying veiled ladies and none could say which one carried her. The moment she entered the Masjid al-Haram, she gave away ten thousand dirhams to the Ka'bah and showered gifts on its attendants. (Al-Ibr v3 p 340)

Imam Muhammad ibn Ahmad ibn Jubayr Andalusi رضمة الله علیه (d 615 AH) has mentioned the hajj of three princesses in 579 AH and their philanthropy in Makkah. They were: (1) Darb Arman, the princess of the Roman sultan, Mas'ud; she was twenty-five years old. Thirty of her camels brought water for the pilgrims, thirty carried provision and a hundred carried other miscellaneous luggage— all for the comfort of the pilgrims. She did other good work too. (2) Lajatman, mother of Mu'izuddin ruler of Mosul and wife of Babuk brother of Sultan of Syria, Nuruddin Zangi. Her deeds of piety are considerable. (3) princess of Sultan of Isfahan, Dagus (دغوس). She was very gracious and esteemed, given to pious work. (Rahilah, Ibn Jubayr p 143)

The first tartar King to embrace Islam was Kharbandah who then became Muhammad Khudabandah. He was succeeded by his young son Abu Sa'eed Bahadur Khan. The women of this neo-Muslim family were very religious. When Sultan Abu Sa'eed Balhadur Khan traveled with his retinue, the women accompanied him, each with her retinue, and for each an imam and mu'azzin and reciter of the Qur'an. (Rah lah, Ibn Batutah v1, p 146)

Safariyah was the favourite female slave of Sultan Malik Shah and mother of his son Sultan Sanjar. She was very religious. She had water stalls erected on the roads by which pilgrims travelled for hajj. When she was admitted to the sultan's harem, she sent someone at heavy expense to fetch her mother and brothers and sat down among other female slaves of her age and appearance. Her mother could not recognize her till she spoke and her voice was familiar. She kissed her and embraced Islam. Safariyah was one of the unique women who gave birth to two caliphs or sultans. She died in 515 AH.

Al-Jihatul Qaimah, the Umm Walad of the Khalifah, Al-Qa'im biamrillah, was a (female) slave. She had left a legacy of their personal property for the welfare of the pilgrims. She was well-known for her salah and fasting. She died in 487 AH and her grandson Khalifah Al-Muqtadir biamrillah led the funeral salah. (Al-Muntazim v9 p 25) [Umm Walad is a slave who gives birth to her master's child.]

Royal and Kingly:

Tarkan bint Tiraj was the wife of Sultan Malik Shah. Her father, Tiraj, was King of Persia of the Afrasiyab stock. She had a royal temperament and became queen on the death of Malik Shah. She was resolute, gracious and intelligent. She took care of the state treasury, organised the army and led her forces on the battlefield bravely. She had ten thousand strong Turkish army on Shajratuddur Umm Khalil was the dear wife of Sultan Malik Salih. She was very intelligent and capable. When the Sultan died she did not disclose it to anyone but continued to issue Fiqh of the

Building Madrasahs:

The princess of the king of Egypt An-Nashr Muhamamd ibn Qaladom and wife of Amir Bakr Hijazi built the Madrasat ul Hijaziyyah in Cairo in 761 AH. She appointed Shaykh ul Islam Sirajuddin Umar ibn Arsalan Balqini as chairman over the classes of fiqh of the Shafi’i School. He also initiated classes of fiqh of the Maaliki school. She built a large library in the Zamrud, the mother of Khalifah Ahmad ibn ul-Mustada was of Turkish stock. She built a Madrasah where Imam Fakhruddin Abu Abdullah Muhammad ibn Abu Ali Nawkhani a Shafi’i Faqih, imparted lessons. (Tabaqat ul-faessirin v 2 p 212)

Tarkan bint Malik Izzuddin Mas’ud had the title Jihatu Atabikyah. She was the wife of the King Ashraf Musa. She built a madrasah at Jabal Syria and it came to be known after her. Her grave lies in this madrasah. (Al-ibr v 5 p 164)

Rabi’ah Khatun was sister of Sultan Sulahuddin Ayyubi and Malik Aadil. She also built a madrasah at Jabal. She died in Sha‘ban 643 AH when she was over eighty years old and was buried in the madrasah. (Ibid p 176)

Taab uz-Zaman, the female slave of the caliph Hasan ibn al-Mustanjidbillah Abbasi built a madrasah in Makkah for the girl students of Shafi’i thought. It was part of Dar Arqam and was set aside in trust in 580 AH. (Al-Aqd Ath Thamin v 1 p 117)

The mother of the sultan of Turkey Murad Khan had built a very large madrasah in Iskadar. She held a large opening ceremony to which she invited scholars and religious men of Rome. Shaykh Ahmad ibn Ruh Jabry Ansari Hanafi gave the first lesson by explaining the surah, al An’am. An excellent religious festival was held and she gave one thousand dinars to each participant as gift. Fifty of them were appointed to teach in the madrasah. (At-Tabaqat as-Saniyah, v 1 p 406)

A madrasah by the name Khatun Umm Salih was established in Damascus. The recital of the Qur’an was taught here by expert teachers. Imam Sakhaw’i’s well-known student Shaykh Jamaluddin Ibrahim ibn Dawud was the shaykh of the reciters. He was succeeded by Shaykh Zaynuddin who held the office for twenty years and Shaykh Nasiruddin Muhammad Shaffi taught here for many years. (Al-ibr v 5 p 325)

Shahdah bint Ahmad ibn Umar Abri had the title Fakhr un Nisa. She was the wife of the attorney of the caliph Abbas. She had learnt hadith from Ibn us-Siraj and Tirad and she had an excellent handwriting. She was very pious. At the same time as she attended to domestic work, she derived knowledge from the scholars and she taught hadith for many years. She lived for about a hundred years and died on 14th Muharrum 574 AH. Many scholars attended her funeral salah in the Jami’ Masjid of personal Merits:

These great female scholars, sufs, teachers also possessed excellent qualities. They were modest, chaste, determined and intelligent.

Umm Khalil Shajratud Dur was beautiful intelligent and brave. Khadijah bint Shahabuddin Nuwayriyah Makkiyah was religious, abstinent, innocent and kind. (Al-Aqd ath-thenin v 8 p 208)

The daughter of Makkah's judge, the muhaddithah Zaynab Hashmiyah was noble, well-mannered, intelligent and courageous. (Ibid.) Kamaliyah daughter of Najmuddin Ahmad, a judge of Makkah, was resolute and strong-willed and her husband Shaykh Khalil said about her, "If she wished, she could move the mountain from its place." (Al-Aqd ath Themin v 8 p 312)

The piety and determination of Al-Jaybah is exemplary. She lived in Makkah and for thirty years did not touch the meat and fruit imported form Bajilah (in Africa) because its inhabitants did not let women inherit. She had emulated her father, Shaykh Nuruddin, who did not eat the fruit of Madinah whose people, he thought, did not pay Zakah theron. (Al-Muntazim v 10, p 379). Similarly, Umm Abdur Rahman Safiyah bint Abdul Khayr Makhzumiyah came out of her home only to perform hajj.

Umm Kulthum daughter of Qadi Jamaluddin Qarshiyah lived with her husband Qadi Shahabuddin Ahmad ibn Zahirah after their marriage and no one else saw her face for one year. No one could see her hair all her life and she punished any of her daughters who had not covered her head. She was very pious, intelligent, pure and innocent. (Al Aqdath Themin!)

Ayshah the mother of Sittul-kul bint Ibrahim Jilaniyah was a very good mannered talented scholar. She resided in Aden but visited Makkah on business errands. She died in Makkah during one of her visits. She never cast off her veil and no man did even see her face.

There were some Muslim women who devoted all their lives to religion so that they never married. Umm ul Kiram, Karimah bint Ahmad Maruziyadh lived in Makkah permanently. Scholars of Hadith narrated from her the sahib Bakhari. She died an old woman who had never married. (Al-Ibr v 3 p 253)

Fatimah bint Salman was an old woman scholar of Hadith. She lived for about ninety years but was unmarried all her life. Habibah bint Izzuddin Magdisiyah died at the age of ninety-one but she never married. Zaynab bint Kamaluddin spent all her life acquiring knowledge and living a pious life. She did not marry at all.

Acknowledgement and respect

The ulama have been large-hearted in acknowledging the contribution of the female scholars. They bestowed on them great titles and gave them great respect. They had recourse to these women scholars in deriving knowledge from them. Umm Muhammad Khadijah Baghdadiyah attended the gatherings of Imam Ahmad ibn Hanbal and heard hadith from him, and he acknowledged her standing.

The scholars of Busra used to visit Uliyah bint Hassan and they exchanged views on religion with her. Ibn Jawzi said the same thing about Raithah bint Abdullah. (Al-Muntazim v 6 p 258)

Khadijah bint Shahabuddin Makkiyah received letters from her cotemporary male scholars and she sent to them her views on religious issues. (Al-Aqdath Themin v 5 p 208)

Women of Islam have also taught Sufism to men. Male scholars have learnt tasawwuf from them. Amatur Rahman Fatimah bint Qutubuddin Makkiyah Jamaliyah donned the saintly attire at the hands of Shaykh Najmuddin Tabrayzi to become his Khalifah and then taught hadith to a distinguished band of learned men and got them to wear the saintly robes. (Tbid p 288)

Iyas ibn Mu'awiyah said of Hafsah bint Sirin that he did not find anyone as saintly as she. (Tahdhib at-Tahdhib v 12 p 449)

Khatib said of Umm ul-Fath Amatul Islam bint Qwdi Abu
Achievements of Muslim Women in the Religious And Scholarly Fields

Bakr Ahmad ibn Kamil that Azhari and Tanokhi praised her very much as truthful and intelligent. (Tarikh Baghdad v 13, p 443)

Abu Hamid Safarini, majestic as he was, did not fail to honour and respect Umm Husayn, Jum'ah bint Ahmad Neshapuriyah. (ibid v 14 p 444)

Dhahabi said about the scholar Umm Zaynab Fatimah bint Abbas Baghdadiyah that she was acclaimed and loved by the people. (Zayl ul-Ibr Dhahabi p 80)

Faasi said that both brothers of Khadijah bint Shahbuddin Nuriyah Makkiyah - Shaykh Qadi Kamaluddin and Qadi Nuruddin- respected their sister tremendously and requested her to pray for them (Al-Aqa)

Shahdah bint Ahmad was known far and wide for her learning. (Ibn Khallikan v 1 p 245)

Amir ibn Makula wrote about Umm ul Fadl daughter of Abul Qasim Abdul Wahid, the judge, "She was our neighbour. I took down hadith from her." Khatib Baghdadi and Suri, etc also acquired knowledge from her. (Al-Kemal v 4 p 264)

Amir ibn Makula wrote also about Jabrah the slave girl of Abul Fath ibn Abul Fawaris, "She was the wife of our teacher Abdul Aziz ibn Ali Azji. She narrated hadith from Ibn Abul Fawaris. She visited me often. Though I did not heard hadith from her, others did." (ibid v 2 p 30)

Abu Abdullah Muhammad ibn Abdul Aziz was an erstwhile student of Imam Muhammad ibn Haysam. He gave his daughter Umm Kulthum in marriage to his student. Both husband and wife were unmatched in their learning and excellence. (Tabagat al-Mufarris, v 2 p 355)

The acknowledgement of the contribution of these female scholars surfaced in its last form when they departed from this world and the ulama bid them a heartfelt farewell. Numerous people participated in their funeral.

When Fatimah bint Nasr the well-known scholar of Baghdad died there were so many people that the grills of the Jam'i al-Qasr had to be removed. All adjoining areas and roads were full of the participants. There were more people than on eed day. The ulama and the layman and the rich participated and they accompanied the funeral till the grave of Imam Ahmad Baghdadiyah. Her brother led the funeral Salah. She was buried next to her father, and was remembered for ages. (al-Muntazim v 10 p 279)

The scholar of hadith and faqih of Andalus, Fatimah bint Yahya died in Qurtabah. She was buried in Rabd. So many men participated in her funeral as had never been seen in any woman's. Her funeral prayers were led by Muhammad ibn Abu Zayd. (Baghiyar ul Tulimans p 531)

The funeral salah of Shahdah Baghdadiyah, the Fakhrun Nisa was offered in the Jam'i Al-Qasr. The grills of the area had to be removed to accommodate the people.

There were a large number of people also in the funeral salah of Umm ul-Khayr Juwayriyah in Makkah. The same is true of the funeral salah of Umm Zaynab Fatimah bint Abbas Baghdadiyah.

The Famous Female Scholars of the Ummah

It is with biographies of narrators that is comparison to men's unconcealed lives, the behind-the screen lives of women are mentioned briefly. Only what is apparent of their religious and scholarly lives is mentioned, and their domestic and private lives are omitted. However, their personal characteristics can be detected from their apparent merits.

We mention briefly a few women of Islam reflecting their merits. Detailed accounts may be seen in Tarikh Bagh�idi of Khatib, Al-Ibr fi Khabr min Ghabr of Dhahabi and Al Munta Zim of Ibn Jawzi.

According to Allah's Sunnah, in every age there are men- and women according to their ratio and position- of the type of individuals and groups needed in that age. In the first two centuries, hadith and aathar had to be collected, so there were a great many narrators. In the sixth and seventh, the crusaders and tartar had played havoc with Islamic larning and arts. Suitable men and women arose to rejuvenate the achievements in these

They were sisters of Bishr Hafi. They were very pious and righteous. Mudghah was the eldest. The Kunyah of Zahdah was Umm Ali. Abdullah son of Ahmad ibn Hanbal said, "One day someone knocked at the door. She wished to meet my father. He gave his permission. She came in and offered salaam. She said, "I spin yarn in the light of a lantern. Sometimes, when it blows off, I spin yarn in moonlight. Shall I make difference in wages in each case?" He said, 'If you feel the difference then make it apparent.' She then asked, 'If a sick man weeps because of pain then is that a complaint?' he said, 'I do not think that it is a complaint. The woman went away." Abdullah was then directed by his father to see where the woman went because he had not heard anyone ask this kind of a question. He followed her and reported back that she went into the home of Bishr. Imam Ahmad said, "It is not possible for anyone else but Bishr Hafi's sister to ask that."

Female jurists & Scholars of hadith among the Sahabah

It has been the distinguishing characteristic of Islam and Muslims in every age that like men, women have made a full contribution to the Islamic sciences in every age, taking simultaneous step to propagate them. Women from the companions to the tabi'in and thereafter have been in the forefront in narrating, recording and preserving hadith. They have made remarkable contribution in fiqh and fatawa. Thus, many recognized and authoritative scholars have not hesitated to benefit from the contribution of women in this field who were known for their knowledge, understanding and piety.

Before a systematic recording of these subjects, chosen male and female scholars had specialized in them. Beginning with the Prophet's companions, the first two named gave verdicts. Some ahadith say that the Prophet had recorded them, and thus encouraged Muslims to take recourse to them. This continued until the middle of the second century when, between 140 AH and 150 AH, ahadith were classified and recorded on juristic issues. The ulama wrote books on this pattern. Before that scholars of both sex made individual contributions to this field.

Ibn Qayyim wrote in Al'am ul Muqa'il that the Sahabah whose juristic verdicts are preserved number more than a hundred and thirty, both men and women. He has then created three classes, each class naming jurists of both sexes.

The first class names seven illustrious sahabah. The edicts of each of them would require a voluminous book. The great grandson of Khalifah Mamun Abu Bakr Muhammad ibn Musa had recorded the verdicts of Abdullah ibn Abbas in twenty volumes. Sayyidah Ayshah is also in this class.

The second class has thirteen shabah. The edicts of each of them can be bound together in a small book. Sayyidah Umm...

Salamah is named in this class.

The rest are in the third class. Their edicts require a folio each. Those named here include: Sayyihad Sufiyah, Sayyidah Hafsa, Umm Habibah, Juwaryayih, Maymunah, Sayyidah Fatimah az-Zuhra, Umm Atyah, Asma bint Abu Bakr, Umm Sharik, Umm Darda, Fatimah bint Qays, Layla bint Qaif, Fatimah bint Harun, Layla bint Hujayriyah, Sahl bint Suhayl, Umm Salamah, Zaynab bint Jahsh, Umm Zainab of Makkan period, and Umm Yusuf. Umm Zaynab is named in this class. The rest are in the third class. Their edicts require a folio each. The jurist among the sahabah - both male and female. Their edicts and rulings were approved and well-known in the times of the sahabah and tabi'in.

Dahabi has named in his Tadhkirdatul Hafza, thirty-two female. Their edicts and rulings were approved and well-known in the times of the sahabah and tabi'in.

Achievements of Muslim Women

The Mother of the faithful, Sayyidah Khadijah bint Khuwaylid was the first married to Atiq ibn Aa'id. Then she was married to Abu Halah Nabash ibn Zurarah and they had Hind ibn Abu Halah, who became the Prophet’s step son. Then, her third marriage was with the Prophet. She was forty years old and he was twenty-five years old. Except for Ibrahim who was born to Sayyidah Mariyah Qubitiyah, all the Prophet’s children were born to Sayyidah Khadijah. They were Sayyidina Qasim, Tahir, Tayyib, Sayyidah Fatimah, Zaynab, Ruqayya” and Umm Kulthum.

She was the richest woman of Makkah. She engaged in trade. She was known as Tahira because of her excellent character during the pre-Islamic days. She was the first Muslim who believed the Prophet and gave away all she had to Islam. She lived with the Prophet for twenty-four years and six months. She used her wealth, influence and intelligence to protect Islam at every delicate moment. Having died very early, she could not enter the folds of jurists but she is the top of this group and of the beautiful story of religious achievements of the daughters of Islam.

Sayyidah Ayshah

The mother of the Faithful, Sayyidah Ayshah bint Abu Bakr was known as faqihatul Ummah. She had command over every branch of knowledge from fiqh to injunctions and poetry to medicine. She was the scholar of Islamic laws and injunctions of the Makkah period.

Surely, the name of Sayyidah Khadijah al-Kubra would have headed the list if she had lived longer. So while dwelling on the account of these honourable women, we begin with a brief account of her. She lent support to Allah’s Messenger and Islam in the beginning as no one has supported.

Sayyidah Khadijah al-Kubra

the hadith, juristic opinion, the background of revelation of Quranic verses and the religious duties. Ata ibn Abu Raibah said that she was more knowledgeable than other people. Mahmud ibn Labid said, "Sayyidah Aayshah was more knowledgeable and Sayyidah Umm Salamah was ahead of the other women of the Prophet in remembering the hadith. And Sayyidah Aayshah used to give rulings during the caliphate of Umar and she would excel and rise above theirs."

Urwah ibn Zubayr, Sayyidah Aayshah's nephew, recited poetry on every occasion. When the people commended him once, he said that his knowledge of poetry could not compare with Sayyidah Aayshah's knowledge. She was quick to cite poetic verses apt to the occasion. (Tabagat Ibn Sa'd v 2 pp 374, 375, Ist' ab v 2 p 266)

Ibn Qayyim wrote that of the students of Sayyidah Aayshah her nephews Qasim ibn Muhammad and Urwah ibn Zubayr did not exceed the rulings and opinions of Sayyidah Aayshah but abided by her opinion. (A'lam al ma'waaqit in v 2 p 17)

Sayyidah Aayshah narrated many hadith directly from the Prophet. She also narrated from her father Abu Bakr, from Umar. Hamzah ibn Amr Aslami, Sa'd ibn Abu Waqas, Sayyidah Judamah bint Wahb Asadiyyah, and Sayyidah Fatimah Az-Zuhra.

Ibn Hazm has mentioned the number of hadith narrated by eleven sahabah in his book Tabqah Mukaththirin bir-riwayeh. Sayyidah Aayshah was more knowledgeable than other women of the Prophet and narrated 2210 hadith.

Dhahabi also confirmed that the sahabah turned to her for answers to their religious questions. (Tadhkirat ul Huffaz v 1 p 26)

Achievements of Muslim Women in the Religious And Scholarly Fields

Those who narrated from Sayyidah Aayshah are very many and most of them are her relatives. Their names are: her sister Umm Kulthum bint Abu Bakr, foster brother Awf ibn Harith, both nephews Qasim ibn Muhammad and Abdullah ibn Muhammad, both nieces Hafsah and Asma daughters of Abdur Rahman, both sons of her sister Urwah and Abdullah sons of Zubayr ibn Awwam, sister's daughter Aayshah bint Talhah, Muhammad ibn Abdur Rahman, Abbad ibn Habib. Abbad ibn Hamzah, slaves Abu Yusnus, Dhakwan and Abu Amr ibn Farukh. The Sahabah who narrated from her are: Amr ibn Aas, Abu Musa Ash'ary, Zayd ibn Khalid Juhan, Abu Hurayrah, Abdullah ibn Umar, Abdullah ibn Abbas, Rabiah ibn Amr Jarshi, Sa'id ibn Yazid, Harith ibn Abdullah, and others.

Senior tabi'in also narrated from her and number quite many, Sa'eed ibn Musayyib and scores of others. (Tahdhib at-Tahdhib v 12 pp 432-435)

She died in 57 AH or 58 AH.

Sayyidah Umm Salamah

Her name was Hind. She was the daughter of Abu Umayyah who was Suhayl. Her first husband was Abu Salamah ibn Abdul Asad and they had a daughter Zaynab and a son Umar. The Prophet brought up Umar. She married the Prophet in 2 AH after she had become a widow. Of all his wives, she possessed the most knowledge of hadith and fiqh after Sayyidah Aayshah. We have read the words of Mahmud ibn Labid in the account of Sayyidah Aayshah (Tabagat Ibn Sa'd v 2 p 375).

Her slave Shaybah ibn Nisah was the imam of reciters of the Quran of Madinah. Naafi' ibn Qatayyah was the slave of Ibn Umar and was his student in the science of Qur'an recital. Her female slave was Khayrah the mother of Hasan Busiri. (Ma'arif Ibn Qatayyah p 69)

Sayyidah Umm Saamaah narrated ahadith from the Prophet and from her first husband Abu Salamah. Then some of those connected with her who include her son, daughter, brother, nephew and slaves, and others narrated from her. The tabi’in and other ulama who are a sizeable number also narrated from her.

(Tahdhib at-Tahdhib v 12 p 356)

Sayyidah Hafsah

She was daughter of Umar ibn al-Khattab. She was first married to Khunays ibn Abdullah ibn Hudafah Sahmi. After he died, she married the Prophet in 2 AH or 3 AH. She was the real sister of Abdullah ibn Umar. She was very pious. The Quran's copy that was transcribed after the battle of Yamamah finally came to be preserved by her and she took great care of the trust. She narrated hadith form the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and from her father. Umar ibn al-Khattab. Then a large number of narrators narrated from her.

She died in 41 AH or 45 AH. (Mu’arif Ibn Qutaybah p 59, Tahdhib at Tahdhib v 12 p 410)

Sayyidah Umm Habibah

Her name was Raamlah bint abu Sufyan Sakhr ibn Harb. She embraced Islam in the early days and migrated to Ethiopia with her husband Ubaydullah ibn Jahsh Asadi(1) who died in Ethiopia. Then she married the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. She died in 44 AH. Before dying she called Sayyidah Ayshah and said, "May Allah forgive us for what has transpired between us and our co-wives." Sayyidah Ayshah and Sayyidah Hafsah replied: "You have pleased me with these words. May Allah please you." Then she called Sayyidah Umm Salamah صلى الله عليها وسلم and repeated the prayer and she reciprocated the sentiments. (Tabaqat Ibn Sa’d v 8 p 100)

Sayyidah Umm Habibah صلى الله عليها وسلم narrated hadith from the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and from Sayyidah Zaynab bint Jahsh صلى الله عليها وسلم. A number of narrators then conveyed the hadith from her. (Jahdhib at-Jahdhib v 12 p 419)

(1) He apostasized there before dying. (translator RAR)
Sayyidah Fatimah az-Zahra

She was the Prophet's daughter. She was married to Sayyidina Ali one year after hijrah. They had these children: Hasan, Husayn, Muhsin, Umm Kulthum Kubra and Zaynab Kubra. Sayyidah Ayshah said that Sayyidah Fatimah had great merits. She died six months after the Prophet's death.

She narrated hadith from the Prophet and her hadith on 'bath to the dead' was considered authentic. She was one of the women who gave bath to a daughter of the Prophet on her death, and thereafter her hadith on 'bath to the dead' was considered authentic. She was counted among the scholars of Busra and the sahabah and the tabi'in learnt the method of bath of the dead.

Sayyidah Asma bint Abu Bakr

Her title was Zaat un Nataqayn. She was the eighteenth person to embrace Islam in Makkah. She was very intelligent, educated, noble, generous, and truthful. Her son Abdullah ibn Zubayr had established his Khilafah in Makkah in the times of Yazid.

She died in 73 AH when she was a hundred years old, but her eyesight and intelligence were unimpaired till the last time. The hadith speak of her merits.

She had narrated hadith from the Prophet and those who narrated from her included her both sons, and others. (Tahdhib at Tahdhib v 12 p 397)

Umm Atiyah Ansariyah

She was Nusaybah bint Ka'b (or bint Harith) Ansariyah. She participated in battles with the Prophet and attended to the wounded and sick. Ibn Abdul Barr said that she possessed a great rank among the sahabiyat. She was one of the women who gave bath to a daughter of the Prophet on her death, and thereafter her hadith on 'bath to the dead' was considered authentic. She was counted among the scholars of Busra and the sahabah and the tabi'in learnt the method of bath of the dead.

She was the sister of Sa'eed ibn Zayd, and one of the muhajirs. She had very good manners. She was first married to Abu Bakr's son, Abdullah who loved her dearly. When he was martyred in the battle of Ta'if, she married Zayd ibn Khattab. When he was martyred in the battle of Yamamah, Umar ibn Khattab married her and he had arranged a walimah (wedding feast). When he was martyred, Zubayr ibn Awwam married her and when he too was martyred, Ali proposed marriage with her, but she pleaded. "O brother of the Prophet, I wish to save you from being killed." When the inheritance of Zubayr ibn Awwam was being discussed, she said that she would accept whatever was given to her without argument. She was given eighty thousand dirhams and she accepted that. (Isti'ab v 2 pp 768-9)

Umm Sharik Ansariyah

She was Ghaziyah or Ghazilah bint Dawdan Ansariyah, she narrated hadith from the Prophet and a number of people narrated from her. (Tahdhib at Tahdhib v 13 p 444)

Fatimah bint Qays

She wasisoner sister of Dahhak ibn Qays. She was a very early Muslim and she migrated to Madinah in the initial days of Hijrah. Ibn Abdul Barr said, "She was beautiful and intelligent. After Umar's martyrdom, the members of the Shura assembled in her home." Zubayr ibn Awwan called her a brave women. (Isti'ah p 268, 269)

She narrated hadith from the Prophet and a number of people narrated from her. (Isti'ah p 268, 269)

Aatikah bint Zayd

She was the sister of Sa'eed ibn Zayd, and one of the muhajirs. She had very good manners. She was first married to Abu Bakr's son, Abdullah who loved her dearly. When he was martyred in the battle of Ta'if, she married Zayd ibn Khattab. When he was martyred in the battle of Yamamah, Umar ibn Khattab married her and he had arranged a walimah (wedding feast). When he was martyred, Zubayr ibn Awwam married her and when he too was martyred, Ali proposed marriage with her, but she pleaded. "O brother of the Prophet, I wish to save you from being killed." When the inheritance of Zubayr ibn Awwam was being discussed, she said that she would accept whatever was given to her without argument. She was given eighty thousand dirhams and she accepted that. (Isti'ab v 2 pp 768-9)

Umar had permitted her to afther salah in the Masjid Nabawi, so that she was there at the time of his Martyrdom. (Tabagat Ibn Sa'd v 8 p 265) At the time of their marriage, she had placed the condition that she should be allowed to go to the mosque and speak the truth. So, though he was displeased, he allowed her to go to the mosque. She had placed the same condition with Zubayr ibn Awwam and he too accepted it. When she went for the salah of isha it pained him very much and when he found it unbearable, he went ahead of her one day and concealed himself on the way. As she passed by, struck her body with his hand and thereafter she ceased to go to the mosque. (Asad ul-Ghabah v 5 pp 498-9) Ibn Hajar has reported these things in Asbah on the authority of Ibn Abdul Barr. These accounts show that Sayyidah Aatikha was among the senior Sahabah and she held a position of distinction among them.

Umm Ayman

She was the Prophet's slave. Her name was Barakah. She had brought up the Prophet, who called her, "Mother." He would say, "She is the remnant of my family." He had set her free and she married Ubayd ibn Zayd. When he was martyred in the battle of Hunayn, she married Zayd ibn Harithah. She bore him Usamah. She accompanied the Prophet in the battles of Uhud and Khaybar and nursed the wounded and gave water to the warriors.

She wept very much when the Prophet died. She said, "I know that he had to die, but I weep that no revelation will now descend from the heaven." (Tabaqat Ibn Sa'd v 8 p 223)

Abu Bakr and Umar used to visit her as they had visited the Prophet.

She narrated hadith from the Prophet and among those who narrated from her was Anas ibn Maalik. She died in the early days of Uthman's caliphate. (Tahdhib at-Tahdhib v 12 p 459)

Hawla bint Tuwayt

She migrated after embracing Islam and pledged allegiance to the Prophet. She was exemplary in piety and asceticism in the Prophet's times. (Jamhartul Aansas p 118) She kept awake all night to worship. When the Prophet learnt of it, he said, "As long as you people do not tire of worship and supplication, Allah will not hesitate to reward you and accept your prayer. And, you are responsible for your deeds only so much as is within your powers.

Her hadith are found in Bukhari, Muslim and Muwatta.

Umm ad-Darda al-Kubra

She was Khayra bint Abu Hadrad Aslami. She was the wife of Abu Darda. She was very pious, learned and intelligent. Many people (tabi'in) narrated from her. She also narrated from the Prophet. (Tadhkiratul Huffaz)

Zaynab bint Abu Salamah

Her mother was Sayyidah Umm Salamah. Hence, she was also called Zaynab bint Umm Salamah. Many people narrated from her. She also narrated from the Prophet, and she was very pious, learned and intelligent. (Tadkinul Huffaz v 1, p 50, Isti'ab v 2 p 292)

Layla bint Qanif

She was one of those who bathed to the Prophet's daughter, Sayyidah Umm Kulthum on her death and shrouded her. She said that as they were so occupied, the
Achievements of Muslim Women in the Religious And Scholarly Fields  104

Prophet  رضي الله عنها وسلم stood at the door and handed over to them the pieces of the shroud one by one. (Asad ul-Ghabah v 5 p 543)
Dawud ibn Aasim Thaqafi narrated from her. (Tahdhib at Tahdhib v 12 p 450)

Some books write Qa'if  فالف (but Ibn Hajar has written Qanif in Asabah.

Sahlah bint Suhayl  رضي الله عنها

She was an early Makkan Muslim and migrated to Ethiopia with her husband Abu Hudhayfah ibn Utbah  رضي الله عنه. Her husband had a slave, Saalim  رضي الله عنه whom he had adopted so that he moved about in the house freely. About this time, the Prophet  رضي الله عنه explained how fosterage is established, so Saalim became her foster son. Sayyidah Ayshah  رضي الله عنها used to issue edicts on foster relationships based on this fosterage, but other wives of the Prophet  رضي الله عنه differed from her, saying that the Prophet  رضي الله عنه had given special concession to Sahlah bint Suhayl in this regard.

Saalim  رضي الله عنه had arrived at Quba ahead of the Prophet  صلى الله عليه وسلم so, he led the Sahhabad  رضي الله عليهم in congregational salah (Tabagat Ib n Sa'd v 8 p 270)

Ghamidiyah Azdiyah  رضي الله عنها

She was of the tribe Ghamid. The case of her being stoned is mentioned in sahih Muslim and other books. The Prophet  صلى الله عليه وسلم led her funeral salah.

Umm Salamah bint Abu Hakim  رضي الله عنها

Her kunyah was Umm Sulaym or Umm Sulayman, But her name is unknown. She enjoyed the company of the aged sahabiyat who used to offer salah with the Prophet  صلى الله عليه وسلم. (Isti'ab v 2 p 803, Asad ul-Ghabah v 5 p 589)

Umm Yusuf Barakah Habshiyah  رضي الله عنها

She was the servant of the Mother of the Faithful. Sayyidah Umm Habibah  رضي الله عنها who had migrated to Ethiopia with her first Husband. On her return, Umm Yusuf became her servant. When she married the Prophet  صلى الله عليه وسلم Umm Yusuf  رضي الله عنها continued to be her servant. (Asabah v 8 p 27, 29)

Amrah bint Abdur Rahman Ansariyah  رضي الله عنها

She was a scholar and a tabi'i of Madinah. She was trained by Sayyidah Ayshah  رضي الله عنها. She was an excellent jurist and scholar of hadith who had good knowledge particularly of Sayyidah Ayshah's  رضي الله عنها hadith (Ibn Hibban). This is what Umar ibn Abdul Aziz confirmed. (Tahdhib at Tahdhib v 12 p 438)
Zuhri said that he found her like an 'ocean of knowledge.' (Tahdhirat ul Huffaz v 1 p 106)

She had a rare collection of the hadith. Umar ibn Abdul Aziz had them copied because he was afraid that knowledge would be wiped off and scholars would disappear. (Tabagat Ibn Sa'd v 8 p 357)

Amrah bint Abdur Rahman narrated hadith from Sayyidah Ayshah  رضي الله عنها. Umm Hisham bint Harithah, Habibah bint Sahl, Umm Habibah, and Hammah bint Jahsh  رضي الله عنها.

Then her son and others narrated from her. (Tahdhib at jahadhib v 13 p 438)

These were the female jurists of the times of the sahabah  رضي الله عنه. Their verdicts were relied upon and all these daughters of Islam had great knowledge of the Book and the Sunnah.

There were also in that period, female scholars who were leaders in hadith and their narrations find mention in books of hadith in large numbers. The muhaddithin have mentioned their names and they include some others besides the foregoing. Dahabi has mentioned in Tadhiratul Huffaz, in its first rank twenty three senior sahabah, Sayyidah Ayshah  رضي الله عنها is one of them. In the second rank, among the senior tabi'in, Sayyidah Umm Darda  رضي الله عنها is named. Besides, in the first rank sixty-four noble sahabah are mentioned after the twenty-three. Their narrations are generally found in books of hadith. These are followed by fourteen female hafiz (memorisers) of hadith, who include the Mothers of the Faithful, Sayyidah Fatimah az-Zahra and others. (Tadhkira al-Huffaz v 1 p 45)

We have already mentioned ten of these fourteen as scholars of the Book and Sunnah. We now mention the remaining four briefly.

Umm Haram bint Milhan Ansariyah

She was the sister of Umm Sulaym and maternal aunt of Anas ibn Maalik. She was a very intelligent woman. She bore Abdullah to Abu Talhah and he (Abdullah) had a flourishing family, ten sons all scholars.

Sayyidha Umm Sulaym narrated from the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم and her sons and others narrated hadith from her. (Tahdhibut Tahdhib v 12 p 471)

Umm ul Fadl Lubabah bint Harith Hilaliyah

She was the real sister of Sayyidah Maymunah, wife of Abbas ibn Abdul Muttalib and maternal aunt of Khalid ibn Walid. According to a report, she was the second woman after Sayyidah Khadijah to accept Islam. She gave birth to six noble sons of Abbas: Fadl, Abdullah, Ma'bad, Qathm, Abd al Rahman. She got the kunyah Umm ul Fadl from Fadl, and Abbas got the Kunyah Abul Fadl. She was the Prophet's صلى الله عليه وسلم aunt and he would go to her home and have some nap.

She narrated very many hadith from the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم. Once the sahabah صلى الله عليه وسلم were unsure if the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم kept a fast on the day of Arafah or not. So, she sent to him a bowl of milk which he drank and it was clear that he was not fasting. (Ist'ab, Asabah v 8 p 267)

Her sons and others narrated hadith from her. (Tahdhibut Tahdhib v 12 p 449)

Umm Hani bint Abu Talib

She was the real sister of Sayyidina Ali. She embraced Islam at the time Makkah was liberated, but her husband Hubyarah ibn Abu Wahb fled Najran. When the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم proposed to her she excused herself lest she fail to give the right of husband (to him). (Asabah v 8, p 287)

She survived Ali. Her narrations from the Prophet صلى الله عليه وسلم are found in the six books of Hadith. Her son, grandson and others narrated from her. (Tahdhib at Tahdhib v 12 p
There are many other daughters of Islam besides these we have mentioned. They were prominent in religious knowledge and jurisprudence. Others had narrated from them. Ibn Hajar has mentioned in the last volume of Tahdhib at-Tahdhib against Kitab un Nisa some three hundred and twenty five names and kunyah of women scholars of hadith and jurists. In Taqrib at-Tahdhib they number three hundred and fifty. He has also named nineteen unknown women narrating from women.
